SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY--WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 2000

---

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 noon by Lieutenant Governor Roger Wilson.

The Reverend Carl G. Gauck offered the following prayer:

Gracious and Heavenly Father: We come to You this day beginning another new session, eager to work and desiring Your guidance. As we approach a new Millennium, we end one of the bloodiest centuries of man's inhumanity to man. Help us to find avenues of peaceful interactions among the people of this state; guide us in passing laws that promote justice and assist those in need. And help each of us to find and walk the path of Your righteousness as we seek to serve You in this place. And we would ask that You comfort the family of Rex Adams as they begin their time of mourning. All this we ask in Your Holy Name. Amen.

Senator DePasco announced that photographers from KOLR-TV, Springfield, KSDK-TV, St. Louis, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, KRCG-TV, Associated Press and the News Tribune had been given permission to take pictures in the Senate Chamber and the Senate photographer had been given permission to take video and use flash in the Senate Chamber and the Senate Gallery today.

Opening Address - January 5, 2000

Second Regular Session

90th Missouri General Assembly

Ladies and gentlemen, distinguished guests, Lt. Gov. Wilson, friends and family, and my fellow Senators.

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to welcome each of you back to the State Capitol. Today, we begin the Second Regular Session of the 90th Missouri General Assembly.

The year 2000! The new millenium!

There are those who believe that this is the last session of the old millennium. There are those who believe that this is the first session of the new millennium. Then there are those here who would try to amend either of these proposals.

Here in this chamber, I seem to recall that we spent the better part of an evening debating what day it was - or at least what day the record should reflect that we adjourned. And, of course, we succeeded, after extended debate on the matter.

That's just one of the things the Missouri Senate is all about: debating issues - often at length, often at very great length, sometimes at very, very great length. However, this is what needs to happen when there is an honest difference on what the solution to an issue should be.

Last year, for the first time in many years, and for only the third time since we became a state, this body moved the previous question. Yet, it is worth noting, that we did so to continue debate, not to limit it. Free and fair discussion has long been the trademark of the Missouri Senate. For this body, and for the citizens we serve, I hope it always will be.

As I think back on the hundreds of hours of debate that I've enjoyed listening to in this chamber, I am often reminded of how important it is for this body to laugh once in a while. It breaks the tension, keeps tempers calm, and makes the hard issues we have to decide easier to deal with. Plus, we also make some important cultural discoveries. It was here, in this very chamber, that we made the connection between water moccasins, hand fishing and modern dance. And you'll recall when the Senator from Stone and the Senator from Shannon enlightened us as to the origin of the Macarena.

I believe that this is the time that I am supposed to remind everyone of all the many past successes that we have been able to accomplish for the citizens of Missouri. This body knows very well what those issues are and how well we dealt with them. Most of us, myself included, will be stressing these accomplishments numerous times in our up-coming elections.

The Missouri Senate has earned its bragging rights.

This summer I appointed interim committees to research and hold public meetings across the state. These committees were formed to educate us on the issues that we need to deal with this session. Each committee has or will submit a report and recommendation. I will make sure that each of you receive copies.

In 2000, I would like to see the Missouri Senate take the lead and address the following issues:

- Set up a tobacco trust fund for safekeeping and let the people decide what to do with the settlement proceeds
- Health care reform including a comprehensive patient bill of rights
- Protect seniors from telemarketing fraud, elder abuse, poor living conditions and skyrocketing prescription costs
- Education issues including school violence, charter schools, and early childhood education
- Tying up any loopholes regarding meth, sexual predators and protecting our children from abuse.

Night before last as Jane and I were discussing what message I wanted to deliver to you today, I decided finally on just two very important issues: term limits and harmony.

Probably the most important issue that cannot be solved alone by this body is term limits. In the year 2002, roughly 31 out of 34 Senators will not be able to run for re-election. I think this session we need to paint lines in the Capitol similar to a hospital: We would have a blue line to the bathrooms, a green line to the committee hearing rooms and a yellow line to the chamber for the future Senators to find their way.

We have all heard "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away". In the past, our positions were given and taken away by the voters. Now, with term limits, no matter how well you represent your district, in two terms the citizens must choose someone to replace you. The mere fact that people will no longer have the constitutional right to vote for a person who has served eight years in this body is of great concern to our democracy and well being of the state. This concern crosses party lines. It affects us all. The citizens no longer will have the continuity, experience and knowledge their elected officials need to get things done. I believe this is an issue that each and every one of us needs to be talking about at every opportunity within our districts, to our constituents, to our respective parties and among our colleagues.

The second very important issue I want to talk about is harmony in a world of difference. We are all different and we need some harmony! Each and every one of us worked very hard to become a member of the Senate. I believe we each have the desire and the dedication to serve our constituents to the very best of our ability. If we disagree let it be an honest disagreement. We are all intelligent, caring people who with patience, hard work and a little humor can find satisfactory solutions. Let each of us have as our goal to serve in such a way that Missouri and its' citizens are better off because we were elected.

I look forward to working with each of you during the upcoming session. It really is my privilege serving as your President Pro Tem, and it is a responsibility I take very seriously. However, when I start taking things too seriously, when it gets hard to smile, I just remember that the Senator from Shannon was born on April Fools Day, and I find comfort in this evidence that there is a higher power, and that this higher power has a heck of a sense of humor.

And we should too. It will help us be our best in the days and weeks ahead.

Thank you.

President Wilson assumed the Chair.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following was received:

December 14, 1999

The Honorable Mel Carnahan

Governor of the State of Missouri

Room 216, State Capitol

Jefferson City, Missouri 65101

Dear Governor Carnahan:

It is with deep regret and after great consternation, I hereby tender my resignation as Senator for the 5th Senatorial District, State of Missouri, effective December 15, 1999. As a result of health related reasons and upon the advice of my doctors, I can no longer represent the people of my district in the manner that they expect and deserve.

It has been an honor and a pleasure to serve the citizens in our great state for the past 32 years, and it has been especially rewarding to represent my constituents in the 5th Senatorial District.

Finally, it has been a personal pleasure to serve with you and the other members of the Democratic Party in our quest to provide the quality of representation that the citizens of Missouri so aptly merit. I will miss and remember, with great fondness, the battles that we have won and loss, but always righteously fought on behalf of our constituency.

I wish you the best of luck and continued success as Governor.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ J.B. "Jet" Banks

Senator J. B. "Jet" Banks

c: Honorable Edward Quick

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 1010

WHEREAS, the members of the Missouri Senate always welcome the opportunity to acknowledge milestone achievements in the careers of Show-Me State professional sports figures; and

WHEREAS, Kurt Warner of the St. Louis Rams football team was the overwhelming choice for the National Football League's "Most Valuable Player" award as selected by a national panel of fifty media members of The Associated Press; and

WHEREAS, originally a Rams backup quarterback with hard-earned Arena League and NFL Europe experience, Kurt Warner rose from relative obscurity to replace free agent Trent Green who injured a knee during the first preseason game; and

WHEREAS, a player with an aggressive style, Kurt Warner led the NFL Europe league in passing in 1998 with Amsterdam after spending three years with Iowa of Arena Football; and

WHEREAS, Kurt Warner's exemplary experience in other leagues served him in good stead when the opportunity came his way to play for the St. Louis Rams and throw forty-one touchdowns this past season, a statistic which places him in the rarified company of only one other player, the great Dan Marino; and

WHEREAS, while leading the Rams to a 13-3 season, Kurt Warner completed 325 of 499 passes for 4,353 yards with only 13 interceptions, a 65.1 percent completion rate and 109.2 rating that easily led the league in the 1999 season; and

WHEREAS, Kurt Warner received thirty-three votes for MVP in sharp contrast to the eight each received by fellow teammate Marshall Faulk and Indianapolis quarterback Peyton Manning, and the one vote cast for Colts running back, Edgerrin James; and

WHEREAS, twenty-eight-year-old Kurt Warner is active off the sporting field with volunteer work for the physically challenged and with other charitable endeavors:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, join unanimously to applaud the stellar professional labors of sensational quarterback Kurt Warner and to extend our sincerest congratulations upon his selection as the NFL Most Valuable Player; and

WHEREAS, held this year in Kansas City, Missouri, the Southern Legislative Conference was hosted by the Missouri General Assembly and drew participants from all across the United States; and

WHEREAS, in addition to state legislators and others with an interest in state governance, the Southern Legislative Conference attracted many spouses and children of elected officials; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Amusement Machine Operators Association (MAMOA) donated amusement machine games for the family center which provided entertainment and an enjoyable haven for those who accompanied their spouses or parents to the conference; and

WHEREAS, MAMOA deserves to be congratulated for providing a responsible means of enjoyment for persons of all ages; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Amusement Machine Operators Association is dedicated to ensuring that amusement games provide pure clean family fun and entertainment; and

WHEREAS, descriptive labeling on the machines donated by the Missouri Amusement Machine Operators Association conformed to the "Guide to Coin-Operated Video Games" as published by the American Amusement Machine Association and the Amusement and Music Operators Association; and

WHEREAS, such labeling provides parents and other caregivers with advisory disclosure messages which assist adults in the determination of age-appropriateness for children engaged in the playing of coin-operated video games found in publicly accessible locations:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, join unanimously to applaud the efforts and time donated by the Missouri Amusement Machine Operators Association to the 1999 Southern Legislative Conference and to offer this legislative body's commendation to it for assisting in making sure the event was enjoyable for all; and

THIRD DAY--MONDAY, JANUARY 10, 2000

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Wilson in the Chair.

The Reverend Carl G. Gauck offered the following prayer:

Thomas Jefferson once said: "I like dreams of the future than the history of the past." (8/1/1816)

Gracious and Heavenly Father, You who have forgiven the sins and failures of our past have freed us to do more good with our lives each new day. We pray, guide us this week as we discern the future needs of our people and help us recognize our responsibilities before You and those we serve and in so doing making us more faithful in doing Your will. And we pray for Senator Maxwell and for Your presence with his family at the death of his grandfather, Wilmon Smithee, this past weekend. ## REMONSTRANCES

Senator Ehlmann offered the following remonstrance, which was referred to the Committee on Rules, Joint Rules and Resolutions:

SENATE REMONSTRANCE NO. 3

WHEREAS, the General Assembly of the State of Missouri expects the leader of every state agency and state institution to support the policies enacted by the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, Blanche Touhill is the Chancellor of the University of Missouri at St. Louis and the chief administrative officer of that institution; and

WHEREAS, the Eighty-Ninth General Assembly enacted SB 781 in 1998, which authorized, in sections 160.400 to 160.420, RSMo, the sponsorship of charter schools in St. Louis City by the local school district or by state community colleges and state four-year colleges and universities in the local area including the University of Missouri-St. Louis as part of a measure to address the poor performance by the City of St. Louis Public Schools; and

WHEREAS, many Senators voted for Senate Bill 781 two years ago only because it contained reforms, including charter schools; and

WHEREAS, Kansas City Missouri School District has been recently classified as unaccredited by the State Board of Education and St. Louis Public Schools was found to be similarly deficient in overall performance but has had the classification of unaccredited status delayed until June 2002 pursuant solely to the requirements of a recent federal court order approving a settlement of a federal school desegregation case affecting St. Louis City and to which the State Board of Education was a party, which agreement thwarted efforts to reform the district by appointment of a Transitional School District Board; and

WHEREAS, in the current era, obtaining a quality education is essential to a child's future economic success and determines much of a child's ability to contribute to society; and

WHEREAS, the enactment of a limited authority to establish charter schools in St. Louis City and Kansas City Missouri School District represents a state policy to encourage innovative new schools in two districts which are currently failing to meet the needs of their students; and

WHEREAS, the University of Missouri at St. Louis has only sponsored one charter school; and

WHEREAS, the University of Missouri at St. Louis, through a decision by Chancellor Touhill, refused to review the charter application of the Thurgood Marshall Academy on December 23, 1999, solely on the basis that the Missouri General Assembly provided no financial resources for sponsors to conduct either the evaluations of charter school applications or the subsequent reviews of charter school performance; and

WHEREAS, the University of Missouri at St. Louis received an overall appropriation of more than $40 million for the 1999-2000 school year and has considerable flexibility in the actual expenditure of those funds along with much of the other funding received by the institution from other sources; and

WHEREAS, the University of Missouri at St. Louis made no request for supplemental appropriations to support review of charter school applications or review of charter school performance;

WHEREAS, some state higher education institutions have acted courageously to support this policy and have sponsored a significant number of charter schools, such as Central Missouri State University, which has sponsored no less than 12 charter schools in Kansas City; and

WHEREAS, those state higher education institutions which have acted to support the state policy and sponsor a significant number of charter schools have not received extra funding for review of charter school applications or review of charter school performance;

WHEREAS, the University of Missouri at St. Louis through Chancellor Touhill has acted selfishly and irresponsibly in ignoring the will of the General Assembly as expressed in the statutes, the plight of school children in a failing urban district;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Missouri Senate that the Senate herewith remonstrates against Chancellor Blanche Touhill and the University of Missouri at St. Louis for their failure to give proper consideration to charter school applications received by that institution and for dismissing such applications on the basis of a lack of associated state funding when the institution had the ability to make adequate financial resources available for such charter school review; and

BE IT THEREFORE FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to send a copy of this remonstrance to Chancellor Blanche Touhill so that she modifies the actions of the University of Missouri accordingly; and that a proper copy be sent to the President of the University of Missouri and to the President of the Board of Curators of the University of Missouri.

WHEREAS, Friday, August 13, 1999, marked a dark day in the history of this fine state as a result of the passing of the Honorable Frank Bild, an outstanding citizen who had enjoyed considerable success in the area of public service as a former longtime member of the Missouri General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, a native of Rumania, Frank Bild immigrated to the United States with his family in the early part of this century and grew up in the St. Louis community, where he would eventually distinguish himself as a practicing attorney with the additional desire to help improve the quality of life for others through service in the state legislature; and

WHEREAS, elected Republican Committeeman of Concord Township in 1958, Frank Bild went on to experience an illustrious political career as a state legislator who served in the House of Representatives for eight years before assuming his duties and responsibilities in the Senate, where he was privileged to act as the voice of his constituents from 1973 to 1990; and

WHEREAS, Senator Bild had given tirelessly of himself in his leadership role as Caucus Chairman of Republican Senators, as Assistant Minority Floor Leader, and as a member of various important committees which enabled him to work effectively on a number of vital issues especially those which affected the handicapped and the elderly; and

WHEREAS, Senator Bild was held in high regard by his colleagues from both political parties, all of whom had admired him greatly for his honesty as well as his fairness and for his ability to stand firm when confronted with an issue on which he had strong personal beliefs; and

WHEREAS, Frank Bild was a family man who had remained totally devoted to his beloved wife of sixty-one years, Flora; his children, Brian, Karen, Norman, and Kathleen; and his three grandchildren and two step-grandchildren:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, pause in a moment of silent reverie to reflect upon the lifetime achievements of the late Frank Bild who had contributed so much for the benefit of others and to express our heartfelt sympathy to the loved ones he has left behind; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States enacted the Education for All Handicapped Children Act of 1975 (P.L. 94-142), now known as the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), to ensure that all children with disabilities in the United States have available to them a free and appropriate public education that emphasizes special education and related services designed to meet their unique needs, to assure that the rights of children with disabilities and their parents or guardians are protected, to assist states and localities to provide for the education of all children with disabilities, and to assess and assure the effectiveness of efforts to educate children with disabilities; and

WHEREAS, since 1975, federal law has authorized appropriation levels for grants to states under the IDEA at forty percent of the average per-pupil expenditure in public elementary and secondary schools in the United States; and

WHEREAS, Congress continued the forty-percent funding authority in Public Law 105-17, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act Amendments of 1997; and

WHEREAS, Congress has never appropriated funds equivalent to the authorized level, has never exceeded the fifteen-percent level, and has usually only appropriated funding at about the eight-percent level; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri State Plan for Special Education was approved for statewide implementation on the basis of the anticipated federal commitment to fund special education programs at the federally authorized level; and

WHEREAS, Missouri appropriated approximately $240 million for the 2000 fiscal year in support for the state's share of funding for special education programs; and

WHEREAS, the State of Missouri received approximately $105 million in federal special education funds under IDEA for the 1999-2000 school year, even though the federally authorized level of funding would provide over $313 million annually to Missouri; and

WHEREAS, local educational agencies in Missouri are required to pay for the underfunded federal mandates for special education programs, at a statewide total cost approaching $208 million annually, from regular education program money, thereby reducing the funding that is available for other education programs; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Cedar Rapids Community School District v. Garret F. ((1999) 143 L.Ed 2d 154), has had the effect of creating an additional mandate for providing specialized health care, and will significantly increase the costs associated with providing special education services; and

WHEREAS, whether or not Missouri participates in the IDEA grant program, the state has to meet the requirements of Section 504 of the federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. Sec. 701) and its implementing regulations (34 C.F.R. 104), which prohibit recipients of federal financial assistance, including educational institutions, from discriminating on the basis of disability, yet no federal funds are available under that act for state grants; and

WHEREAS, Missouri is committed to providing a free and appropriate public education to children and youth with disabilities, in order to meet their unique needs; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly is extremely concerned that, since 1978, Congress has not provided states with the full amount of financial assistance necessary to achieve its goal of ensuring children and youth with disabilities equal protection of the laws:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Missouri Senate, Second Regular Session, Ninetieth General Assembly, that the President and Congress of the United States are respectfully requested to provide the full forty-percent federal share of funding for special education programs so that Missouri and other states participating in these critical programs will not be required to take funding from other vital state and local programs in order to fund this underfunded federal mandate; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President and Vice President of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to the Majority Leader of the Senate, to the Chair of the Senate Committee on Budget, to the Chair of the House Committee on the Budget, to the Chair of the Senate Committee on Appropriations, to the Chair of the House Committee on Appropriations, to each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation, and to the United States Secretary of Education.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 1035

WHEREAS, Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS), also known as Lou Gehrig's Disease, is a fatal neuromuscular disease that destroys the ability of the brain to communicate with the muscles; and

WHEREAS, early symptoms of ALS include muscle weakness or stiffness. As the disease progresses, muscle function is lost in the limbs and trunk of the body. Eventually the muscles that control vital functions such as speech, swallowing and respiration also become paralyzed; and

WHEREAS, nearly 5000 people are diagnosed annually in the United States and life expectancy is typically 2 to 5 years, with about 50 percent living at least 3 years after diagnosis, 20 percent living for 5 years, and 10 percent surviving 10 or more years; and

WHEREAS, ALS can strike anyone. Men and women are affected in nearly equal proportion and even though the onset is typically beyond the age of 60, it can occur at any age; and

WHEREAS, although there is not yet a cure for ALS, much can be done to alleviate symptoms, prevent complications, and maintain maximum function. Physical therapy, rehabilitation techniques and assistive devices help people deal with the inevitable weakness and functional disability caused by the disease. These therapies can help those living with ALS lead productive and independent lives:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, hereby join unanimously in honoring those persons affected by ALS and encouraging the availability of services, support groups and training for those living with ALS and those working with ALS patients; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, hereby encourage members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate to support any effort to raise awareness about this devastating disease; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, hereby urge members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate to introduce and support legislation to improve the lives of ALS patients; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, hereby encourage members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate to support H.R. 353 and S. 1074 which would waive the Social Security disability waiting period for ALS patients to receive medicare coverage and would provide for Medicare coverage of all FDA-approved drugs and biologicals prescribed for use in the treatment of ALS; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Missouri Congressional delegation.

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, William Ray Price, Jr., escorted the Chief Justice to the dais where he delivered the State of the Judiciary Address to the Joint Assembly:

State of the Judiciary

Chief Justice William Ray Price, Jr.

January 11, 2000

Mr. Speaker. Mr. President. Members of the General Assembly.

On behalf of the judges of the state of Missouri, it is a pleasure and an honor to deliver this 27th State of the Judiciary address. As we stand on the threshold of the twenty-first century, it is appropriate for us not only to speak of today's issues, but to consider our past and the future, as well.

We have come a long way from the time of pioneers in long boats and covered wagons. What was a wilderness purchased from France in 1803 is now the thriving heartland of America. What was a land of lawlessness is now a state in which the fair and equal application of law prevails.

As a people seeking justice we have made great progress over the years. In 1820, when Missouri's first Supreme Court was established, slavery was legal and women were not allowed to vote. In the mid-1800's the state was divided by a civil war and fear for life and property was the rule not the exception. Today the full protection of the law extends to all people regardless of religion, race, or gender and our courts enjoy the service of increasing numbers of African-American, Hispanic, and women judges. Although we still have a long way to go, this is a tremendous accomplishment in which we can all share joy and pride.

Another significant accomplishment for Missouri over the past century was the adoption in 1940 of the Missouri Plan for the appointment of judges. The Plan minimizes the harmful influence of partisan politics on judges while still holding judges accountable to the people. The wisdom of this plan is attested to by thirty-six states and the District of Columbia which have modeled their own plans after it. Missouri was the leader of our nation in this important step.

In just this past decade, our courts have continued to strive for improvement. As judges, we imposed time standards on ourselves and participated in a program of judicial transfers to more promptly resolve our cases. The courts were opened to electronic media. Family and drug courts were established. We began the statewide automation of our courts. The first woman and the first African-American were appointed to the Missouri Supreme Court. But, throughout all of this change, our focus has remained steadfast upon resolving the disputes of our citizens. Justice is our first priority. The delivery of justice in a timely and efficient manner.

It is difficult to measure the quality of justice. Often that measurement is shaped by the eye of the beholder, relative to his or her particular interest. But, I can tell you without hesitation that we are resolving the cases that come to us as promptly and efficiently as possible.

Unlike other states, we have no great delays in providing court dates for trials. This past year 962,986 cases were filed in our circuit courts. That is up from the year before and an increase of almost 20% from 1993. Our caseload is steadily increasing. But, the vast majority of cases in Missouri are resolved in less than two years and many within one year. Here are the hard numbers:

- 80% of circuit court civil cases are disposed within 18 months
- 90% of domestic relations cases are disposed within 1 year
- 97% of associate civil cases are complete in 1 year, and 89% are complete within 6 months
- 87% of circuit court felony cases are completed within 8 months.

Two key factors helped us achieve these results. First, in 1993, we adopted "time standards" to provide guidelines within which litigants could expect to have their cases heard. These standards encourage judges to keep track of how long a case has been pending and to resolve cases promptly.

Second, we pursued a more aggressive program of judicial transfers. We asked sitting judges and senior judges to increase their assistance to circuits with heavy dockets. Since 1994, judges have worked over 40,200 days and handled over 10,700 cases on judicial transfer.

Although both of these programs were controversial at first, they worked. Again the numbers tell the story.

- In 1993, the first year time standards took effect, more cases were disposed of than were filed, something that had not happened in recent history prior to that time.
- Since 1993 although case filings have increased by nearly 20%, the number of pending cases increased only 12.2%.
- Since 1997, in each and every one of the five case categories, the time necessary to process cases has decreased.

Of course, none of this could have happened without the hard work and dedication of the men and women who are judges in Missouri. And, it could not have happened without your support and cooperation in providing necessary funding. We recognize that you have provided us with scarce resources and we are proud that despite an increasing workload our portion of the state's budget is less than 1% of total state expenditures.

As you begin this legislative session, there are a number of issues that are important to the judiciary: the proper role for judicial commissioners, the method of appointment of circuit court clerks, increased compensation for jurors, family court enhancements and criminal justice reforms. All received considerable attention last year and all will be debated again this year. I do not have time during these remarks to address each of those issues because there are two other issues I need to discuss in detail.

The first is our joint effort to create a statewide system of court automation. This has been an ambitious and difficult undertaking, but it is absolutely necessary if we are to provide timely and efficient service in the years to come. Our court system must keep up with the rest of Missouri.

When we began this project five years ago many county courts had no automation. Courts in our larger counties that had automated systems could not be linked to the rest of the state and some suffered potentially fatal Y2K problems. With your assistance, a committee was formed and began to design a single integrated system that would meet the needs of all of the courts of this state. The goals for the new computer system were increased efficiency, improved public access, and better management.

Implementing this new technology, as might be expected, has not been cheap or easy, but we have made significant progress. Today we have an information system that allows communication among all of the judicial circuits in the state. One hundred percent of appellate and circuit court judges, as well as nearly ninety percent of associate circuit judges and circuit clerks have access to the system. Case management software is working in divisions of the Barton, Boone, Cole, Franklin, Jackson, Montgomery, Platte, St. Charles, Taney and Warren county courts as well as in all three districts of the Court of Appeals and in the Supreme Court. At the end of Fiscal year 2000, 31% of the state's caseload will be managed by this software, serving 41% of the state's population. We particularly thank the court staffs, lawyers and citizens of Montgomery and Jackson counties for serving as pilot sites. They suffered the inevitable wrinkles that needed to be discovered before they could be ironed out.

At this time forty-two courts are requesting implementation of the case management system. The speed with which we will be able to grant these requests and time within which we will be able to complete our state wide objectives will depend upon the amount of funding you provide.

Last year you provided $6.1 million of funding. With this money case management software has been installed in seven courts with Y2K problems and in seven additional courts as well. By the end of the year we hope to complete installation of case management software in twenty-three courts.

This session we are requesting funds to install the case management software in another twenty to forty courts and to continue development of the system. We understand that this will be a tight budget year and additional resources for any project will be limited. We want you to understand that we are thankful for the support you have given us for this project. We will do the best we can to continue this vital work throughout the state as quickly as funding allows.

Drug courts are another priority of the judiciary. Seven years ago the first drug court was established in Jackson County. Two years ago a task force of the judicial conference recommended and you passed a bill authorizing drug courts statewide. Today twenty-two drug courts are in operation in Missouri with another seventeen in planning stages.

The benefits of drug courts are clear. Instead of sending a non-violent drug offender to prison, he or she is provided treatment under judicial supervision. Cost savings are substantial and the likelihood of rehabilitation is greatly increased. Statewide we have had 869 individuals graduate from drug court with only 34 being rearrested or convicted for new crimes. This represents roughly a 4% recidivism rate compared with a rate of 45% , or greater, for drug offenders who have not graduated from drug court. Drug courts are the right and the efficient thing to do.

Drug courts also have a place outside of the adult criminal system. Jackson and Newton counties are initiating family drug courts. Juvenile drug courts have been established in Newton and Scott counties and Saint Louis City. A number of other counties are planning for juvenile and family drug courts as well.

The primary cost of drug courts is providing treatment and supervision to the participating individuals. Presently, the funding for this treatment is spread among a number of state agencies and is not formally coordinated. Most of the treatment money is channeled through the Department of Corrections and can only be used for adult felony offenders. This money is not available for family drug courts or the treatment of juveniles. We should have a system that is more flexible to the needs of Missouri. A mother struggling to keep, or regain, custody of her children or a troubled juvenile trying to stay in school needs and deserves treatment just as much as an adult charged with a felony.

To solve this problem the Judicial Conference is asking that you establish a drug court commission to coordinate and to administer all moneys allocated to drug courts. The commission would include members of the various state agencies involved in drug treatment issues, the Department of Corrections, the Department of Social Services, the Department of Public Safety, the Department of Mental Health, and the courts. The commission would coordinate all state funding for drug courts, whether adult, family, or juvenile. This will allow for the full utilization of treatment moneys where they are most needed and establish a central source for evaluation and management of drug court programs state wide. I urge you to seriously consider this proposal.

Finally, just a brief thought about the future. If we have learned anything from the past, it is that the foundation for the future is change. Change in technology, change in issues and interests, change in leaders. To serve the people of Missouri well, we in state government will have to identify and resolve the changing problems of each new day under ever-increasing public pressure and with ever increasing speed. But if we are to serve the people of Missouri well, we will also have to resolve the problems of each new day in accordance with the virtues of our past. Between 1922 and 1924, 14 of those virtues were carved into the walls of this very chamber; knowledge, liberty, equality, law, justice, fraternity, education, progress, honor, truth, virtue, temperance, enterprise, and charity. If we remain true to these virtues, regardless of what problems lay ahead, the state of Missouri can look forward to a future even greater than its past.

Thank You.

On motion of Senator DePasco, the Joint Session was dissolved and the Senators returned to the Chamber where they were called to order by President Wilson.

Tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King

I rise to give tribute to a man who was one of my childhood heroes - a man who had the courage to share his dream - a man who had the capacity to raise the expectation of a generation - a man who had the ability to instill in his community the courage to overcome.

As a young boy, the son of a sharecropper, I vividly recall sitting in my home, a house which was owned by the man whose land my dad farmed, and watching the evening news every night on our black and white RCA TV as it unveiled a new social conscience as voiced by Dr. Martin Luther King. A conscience, which spoke of his hopes and dreams for the next generation, my generation.

Dr. King, in his speech at the Lincoln Memorial, August 1963, surrounded by over a quarter million Americans, spoke the following words:

"I have a dream that one day...little black boys and black girls will be able to join hands with little white boys and white girls as sisters and brothers."

And that's what's at the heart of all social movements - making sure our children have a better world to live in. Making sure they have opportunities that we could only imagine.

That's why Dr. King and his followers marched on Washington. That's why the women of the suffrage movement gathered in Seneca Falls. And that's why our veterans camped outside of the White House. To make the world a better place for their children.

I know that my two children-Megan and Shannen - are on my mind every time I enter this distinguished chamber and vote or establish an agenda. And I know that everyone here in this room thinks of their families, their communities, and this great state when they vote or make a decision about where we are going.

And this is why we all need to be continuously asking ourselves - have we done all we can to make this a better world for our children, the next generation? Have we done all we can to fulfill Dr. King's vision of a society where our children are judged, not on the color of their skin but the content of their character? This is a question I ask myself every day I enter this chamber. And it's a question we must answer every time we debate our state's future as we face a new decade, a new century, and a new millennium. Are we doing everything we can to make this a better place for our children, the next generation? To keep this dream alive we must do more.

Poverty does not discriminate, hunger knows no bias, homelessness is not prejudice, and to keep Dr. King's dream alive, we must not either. We must do better for all of our children. We need to ensure that all of our children have access to quality health care, that they are allowed to attend safe schools, and that they have the right to be all that they can be, their God given right, their inalienable right to be all they can be.

So today we honor Martin Luther King. Not just for his efforts on behalf of African-Americans, but for all of our nation. Not just for his strides in the area of civil rights. And not just because we lost this man far too early in life. We honor him today because we also honor our children. And because we hope that their future will continue to be one in which children of all colors, races and creeds can come together, hand in hand. Let us work together to raise the expectations of the next generation, as Dr. King did for my generation.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 23

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States has required the use of reformulated motor fuel in many major urban centers of the nation, known as "non-attainment areas" for failure to attain air quality standards; and

WHEREAS, this reformulated motor fuel most often achieves the federal requirement for "oxygenated" components through inclusion of a substantial amount of methyl tertiary-butyl ether or MTBE; and

WHEREAS, motor fuels are often leaked into the ground surrounding a fuel station by leakage from underground storage tanks or splashing losses; and

WHEREAS, MTBE is more water-soluble than components in conventional gasoline; and

WHEREAS, MTBE is transported much more readily into aquifers used for drinking water supplies; and

WHEREAS, MTBE renders drinking water foul and unusable by humans; and

WHEREAS, MTBE has been used in reformulated motor fuel required throughout the St. Louis non-attainment area during the warm weather season beginning in 1999:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the Department of Natural Resources be instructed to assess the extent of contamination of ground and surface water in the St. Louis non-attainment area and the risk of future contamination in that area from continuing use of reformulated motor fuel containing MTBE and to report its findings to the General Assembly and Governor no later than December 15, 2000; and

OPENING THE DOORS TO A NEW CENTURY

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

January 19, 2000

Governor Mel Carnahan

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President Pro Tem, Distinguished State Officials, Mr. Chief Justice, Members of the State Supreme Court, Members of the 90th General Assembly, and Citizens of the State of Missouri:

INTRODUCTION

After I finished my service in the Air Force, Jean and I moved back to Missouri so I could attend law school at the University of Missouri in Columbia.

Our first home was a small one near the Fairgrounds.

And at that time, when the Boone County Fair was going strong, if it was a hot day and the wind was in the right direction, the air around our house could become pretty strong as well.

But that's a whole other story.

The contractor who built our house had purchased the material to construct a series of houses--all in a row and all the same design.

However, since our house was the last in the series to be built, it was cobbled together with the leftover scraps.

The flooring boards were all different sizes.

The bathroom tile and kitchen cabinets were also mix and match, so let's just say, those two rooms had their own unique character.

And the trim and the hardware in the house did not even come close to matching.

But the most distinctive feature of the house was one we first discovered on the day we arrived.

The way our home was designed, the garage was supposed to lead into a laundry room that led to the rest of the house--except it didn't.

The contractor had never finished the job.

There was no door.

The steps in the garage, which were supposed to connect to the laundry room, led right up to a solid wall.

Over the next three days and nights, while Jean and I slept with our baby boy Randy on the floor waiting for our furniture to arrive, we had plenty of time to discuss what we were going to do about this problem.

But when the furniture movers arrived, our problem was solved.

When the last piece of furniture was off the truck, the mover found a door.

Now none of us had any idea where that door came from, but when the mover asked us if we wanted it, we certainly accepted.

Then I got out my tools, and after a lot of work with a hammer and saw, I managed to cut a hole in the wall, build a frame for the door, and actually hang the door.

Now with my limited carpentry skills, this task was no mean feat.

In fact, the first time that I tried to hang that door, I put the hinges in wrong, and the door fell right out of its frame.

I'm sure it looked like a bad episode from "Tool Time."

But when the job was finally finished, and we could approach the door with every confidence that it would not only open properly but not fall on any of us in the process, I was quite proud of my handiwork.

I tell you this story because I believe it illustrates why we are here as public servants on behalf of the citizens of the State of Missouri.

For the past seven years, our administration has worked with you to open doors for Missourians.

Sometimes, it was just a matter of a little oiling and planing to make the doors work properly.

Other times, we had to take the door out and start over.

And on some occasions, just like in the case of Jean and my first house, we began at square one and put in a door where one didn't exist before.

However, because of what we have been able to accomplish...because of the doorways we built and the new opportunities we created...Missourians are now better educated, healthier, and safer than they were when we started.

ECONOMY

Any builder will tell you that in order for doors to open properly, you must begin with a solid foundation.

For our state, that foundation is a strong economy.

Through our responsible fiscal management and aggressive economic development efforts of the past seven years, we have built that foundation.

Certainly, Missouri faces some difficult economic challenges.

Most urgent among them is the crisis confronting our family farmers and our entire agricultural sector.

But overall, our state's economy remains strong.

Since 1993, we have helped to create a net total of more than 365,000 new jobs for Missourians.

And remember that seven percent unemployment in 1993?

Today Missouri's unemployment rate is 2.3 percent--the lowest in thirty years.

Another positive development for Missourians since 1993 is what has happened to median income.

The median income of Missouri families has risen 11.4 percent in real terms since 1993.

And we have achieved all this while keeping our own house in order.

We've kept our state debt very low, and we continue to be one of only a handful of states with a triple A bond rating from all major rating agencies.

Furthermore, we've succeeded in providing meaningful tax relief for Missouri's working families.

Seven years ago, to help give our young people a better education, taxes were raised on higher income earners.

Then we were able to get to work on cutting taxes.

The cutting began in 1994 and 1996.

And we really got moving in 1997, 1998, and 1999.

Among other things, we cut personal income taxes several times and eliminated the general state sales tax on food.

We also cut the franchise tax and exempted small businesses entirely.

Some of our tax cuts from last year are just now kicking in.

When they do, we will have provided approximately $650 million in permanent tax cuts since 1994, and a net decrease in taxes of more than 300 million dollars since the beginning of this administration.

Your association--the bipartisan National Conference of State Legislatures--recently noted that because of the tax cuts we passed in 1999, Missourians will receive the third largest tax cut in the nation this year.

Last year, we provided Missourians with the second largest tax cut in the nation.

And the year before that, Missourians received the ninth largest tax cut in the country.

That is a remarkable record, and we did it all while still being able to increase resources for our schools, expand services to senior citizens, improve access to quality health care--particularly for our children--and meet other crucial challenges and responsibilities.

Is it any wonder that Missouri received national recognition last year when Governing Magazine gave our state the highest grade in a landmark study of state government management practices?

We were one of only four states to receive this honor.

Our challenge now is to sustain this strong economy and ensure that all areas of the state benefit from this economic growth.

We are well positioned to do both.

With your help, over the past few years, we have put into place some of the most creative and aggressive economic development tools anywhere in the nation.

And we are seeing dramatic results.

Significant job growth and job retention.

A growing high-tech industry spurred by new seed capital.

Major development projects that not only generate new business, but preserve the unique historic character of our downtowns and neighborhoods as well.

And job training programs that will guarantee we have a competitive workforce for the 21st century marketplace.

Initiatives such as our historic preservation tax credit, distressed communities program, and neighborhood preservation act have brought tremendous statewide benefits.

And in our urban areas, these initiatives are generating a true renaissance.

This is important for all Missourians because the urban centers are major economic engines that help provide sustained prosperity throughout Missouri.

EDUCATION

As my first official act as Governor back in 1993, I opened the doors of the Governor's Office to a group of 80 elementary students.

I wanted to send a clear message to all Missourians that the education of our young people would be our administration's top priority.

I told those students that we would be doing everything possible to give them the educational resources they needed to succeed in the years ahead and that we would be doing something never done in the history of education in Missouri.

And now we are seeing the positive results of our effort.

Our improvements begin at our children's earliest age--those years that research now confirms are critical to their future success.

As a result of our early childhood care and education initiative two years ago and stronger investment in other early childhood programs, we are now greatly increasing the access of Missouri families to quality child care programs for their young children.

Our Outstanding Schools Act, which I signed into law my first year in office, has made a tremendous impact in classrooms across Missouri.

Thanks to its improved way of distributing school funding, emphasis on technology, new performance standards, tough accountability measures, and other initiatives, education in Missouri is taking important steps forward.

Since 1993, we have reduced class sizes in our lower grades.

The number of kindergartners now enrolled in full time programs has increased by 137 percent.

The number of schools offering summer school has increased by 165 percent.

Dropout rates for Missouri students have gone down, and graduation rates have climbed.

And we have connected 97 percent of the school districts in Missouri to the Internet.

These are real demonstrations of progress that our schools can take pride in having achieved.

Another program from the Outstanding Schools Act which is greatly benefiting Missouri students is our A-Plus Program.

If students complete our A-Plus curriculum successfully, they can attend a Missouri public community college, state technical college, or adult program at an area vocational school for two years and have their tuition and books fully paid.

One of the many students to benefit from this innovative program is Patrick Cox from my hometown.

Patrick was a member of the first class to complete the A-Plus curriculum at Rolla High School.

A-Plus helped him attend State Fair Community College in Sedalia.

Now a junior business management major at the University of Missouri in Columbia, Patrick feels those two years of personal and academic growth at State Fair gave him a leg up in succeeding at the University.

He also was greatly influenced by the 50 hours of mentoring he was required to complete as a part of the A-Plus curriculum.

Patrick mentored elementary and junior high at-risk students in the Rolla school system.

He gained such personal satisfaction from that experience that he spent ten weeks this past summer working with troubled boys at the Boys and Girls Town in St. James.

At this time, I would like to ask him to stand so you can all meet this fine young man.

To continue our significant progress in education, I am proud to recommend that once again our school foundation formula be fully funded.

I also want to see more of our teachers become National Board Certified teachers.

We currently have only 29 nationally certified teachers in our entire state.

Under my plan, we will pay the application fees for the certificate and the cost for substitute teachers' pay so we can prepare 100 new teachers to become nationally certified.

Keeping Missouri students safe has been another major objective of our administration.

Under our Safe Schools Act of 1996, we will continue to offer school district grants, which they can tailor to make their schools a more secure environment for students.

This legislative session I want to build on this progress by asking the legislature to approve several recommendations that were made by the School Violence Task Force I appointed last year.

One step we need to take is clarifying the definition of gun-free school zones for our school districts.

A gun-free school zone should exist in any school setting--on the school bus or playground or at an extracurricular activity.

Our penalties for making false bomb threats should be expanded to include any threat to harm students and school property.

We also need to put stronger laws on the books to keep our children safe from dangerous firearms.

How many times have we picked up the paper to read about young children who harmed a playmate or suffered personal injury themselves because a loaded firearm was readily available?

To prevent more of these tragedies, I am proposing legislation to require that every new handgun sold in our state must be sold with a child safety lock.

While we are working to create a safe environment for our students, we've also got to do more to reduce violent behavior in the first place.

Specifically, we must do more to build character and personal strength in our young people--to instill respect and a sense of community--to prepare our children to be the leaders of tomorrow.

Incidents such as the Columbine shooting in Colorado or bomb threats here in Missouri should not happen.

But to prevent them, we have to teach our children to respect each other and to know right from wrong.

That responsibility rests primarily with parents.

However, all of us have a role to play in helping our children build character and become responsible adults.

Our recently released School Violence Task Force report recommends several concrete steps we can take immediately to reduce violent behavior and build character among our young people.

Those recommendations include:

---teaching our children the social skills they need to get along with each other and respect one another;

---and creating opportunities for children to use peer mediation and conflict resolution;

---and incorporate anti-drug, anti-violence, and anti-gang messages in their every day lives;

Most of these recommendations revolve around the classroom.

While decisions about curriculum should be made at the local level, I strongly encourage communities to seriously consider implementing these recommendations, which I strongly endorse.

Together, we can make a real difference in our children's lives.

We can build the character and moral stamina they need to grow into decent, honest adults.

URBAN SCHOOLS

Certainly, one of our biggest challenges will be helping our two largest urban school districts in St. Louis and Kansas City to improve.

Last October, our State Board of Education advised both districts that they were going to move into unaccredited status because they are not meeting crucial academic performance standards.

For more than two decades, these districts have been under the control of the federal courts, who directed billions of dollars to the two districts with no accountability taking place.

Now, finally, that is no longer the case.

This administration and Attorney General Jay Nixon have been able to accomplish what previous administrations and attorneys general could not--convincing the federal courts that they should return local control of the school districts to local leadership.

We did this two ways.

First, we were able to develop and establish new lines of communication in the community and bring together those who understood the importance of a successful public school system to these urban areas.

Second, our Department of Elementary and Secondary Education, under the leadership of Commissioner Bartman, together with the State Board of Education, under the leadership of Peter Herschend, formulated an urban education plan which demands accountability and high standards.

It is their work which the court recognized in its order November 17, 1999, when it stated one of its reasons for restoring "state and local authorities to the control of the Kansas City School District."

And so, as we begin the 21st century, we can all focus on education, not litigation.

We should give the law and the new accountability measures time to do their jobs.

With the courts moving out of the way, the state is working aggressively to help those districts repair their long-standing and long-neglected problems.

Our Department of Elementary and Secondary Education has been working closely with both the Kansas City and St. Louis school districts to help them improve their academic performance and meet the requirements of the new standards within two years.

The two school districts have recently announced preliminary school improvement plans, taken steps to downsize their central office bureaucracies, and established direct lines of communication with their building principals--all key steps to progress.

In both districts, state education officials are identifying and assigning expert teachers to work directly with principals and teachers to introduce "best practices" from other schools.

Some people have declared that a state of emergency has suddenly arisen because the two urban districts are not meeting the new standards.

The reality is that the emergency in urban education has existed for many years, and the lack of accountability during the period of court control has made the problems worse.

Now, with our new standards in place, the problems are finally being measured.

And with the courts moving out of the way, we can finally hold those districts accountable for results--like we are doing in the rest of Missouri.

TOBACCO SETTLEMENT

The national tobacco settlement provides us with new opportunities to improve the health of future generations of Missourians.

While yesterday's court decision may be good news, all litigation is not finally resolved.

And it is unclear whether the federal government will attempt to recover part of these funds.

But we must be prepared to receive and use these funds effectively and appropriately when they do begin to arrive.

That means we need to have a plan in place, and that plan must be sent to a vote of the people if we are to ensure that the settlement is not tied up in further lengthy litigation.

I believe we should establish a Trust Fund to set aside the tobacco settlement money and require clear accountability for the use of the funds.

I believe that these funds would be most appropriately used for health care; smoking prevention efforts; health research that will prevent or cure diseases such as cancer and heart and lung disorders; early childhood education and care; and helping senior citizens pay the spiraling costs of prescription drugs.

And I believe that most Missourians would agree.

So I am asking you to authorize a ballot issue that would establish a trust fund to set aside the tobacco settlement funds and designate these specific uses for this new source of state money.

CHILDREN

Together we have worked hard to open doors for those who are unable to open them on their own--our children.

Some of this progress is the result of our work on increasing access to health care and better child abuse prevention efforts.

Because of the emphasis we have placed on seeing that our youngest citizens are immunized, today almost 86 percent of Missouri 2-year-olds have received this protection from harmful diseases.

Missouri has jumped from 49th in the nation to seventh place today on this important measure.

Probably one of the greatest days for me as Governor was when we worked together to provide access to health insurance for the thousands of Missouri children who were uninsured.

Thanks again, Senator Quick.

Now as a result of our efforts, over the past 18 months, we have been able to extend health care coverage to over 56,000 of these formerly uninsured children.

Two of those children and their parents are here with us today--Kayla and Kyle Miller and their parents, John and Lisa.

This family is from Potosi.

John and Lisa have always worked hard to support their family.

But their wages have not always made it possible for them to pay for health insurance for their children.

Today, Lisa is the MC-Plus Coordinator for Washington County, and her children have health insurance, thanks to MC-Plus.

Kayla was finally able to get the dental care she desperately needed, and Kyle, who was having some problems with his school work because of vision problems, finally got glasses and is now doing well.

Just recently, John got a promotion at his job, and now the children will be moving to the co-pay group of MC-Plus For Kids.

But as Lisa says,

"I no longer have to tell the kids we don't have the money to take them to the doctor and stay awake nights praying their pain and sickness will go away."

Please help me welcome John and Lisa Miller and their children Kayla and Kyle.

To build on our past record of protecting the lives of children, I will be urging you this legislative session to take action on several priorities of the Child Fatality Task Force, which I appointed last spring.

One of those is to put one of the most stringent laws in the nation on the books to stem the flow of child pornography on the Internet.

Our state definition of what constitutes child pornography will be brought up to date by including computer data, computer generated images, digital camera images or pictures, and visual depictions.

We propose enhancing the penalty for those who attempt to sell or produce child pornography to a sentence which would range from 10 to 30 years to life in prison.

In addition, the penalty for the possession of child pornography would be increased.

Our initiative also defines a new crime--furnishing pornography to a minor--which will be considered a Class A felony.

Thanks to legislation approved over the last three years, Missouri now has one of the strongest sexual predator laws in the country.

But this session, we need to add new provisions to protect our children.

Our proposal would allow the crimes of sexual assault, child molestation, and sexual abuse to be used in charging someone as a sexual predator.

METH

Another initiative I propose that the General Assembly adopt this session would increase the punishment for those who manufacture the dangerous drug methamphetamine around children.

We already have one of the toughest "meth" laws in the country--a model being used in other states and one that Congress is trying to emulate.

However, this year, I would like to see us expand on our work so we can offer protection to the children who are forced to live in the middle of these drug dens.

One of the horror stories that law enforcement officers have discovered while waging our war on "meth" is that some of those who manufacture this sinister substance do so at home with their children present.

I urge you to create the crime of unlawful drug transactions with a child--with a potential penalty of life in prison.

CRIME

Although our administration has been committed to opening doors to new opportunities for Missourians over the past seven years, we have tried to slam some doors shut as tight as possible--prison doors.

Thanks to your help with this effort, our most dangerous criminals are now serving an average of ten years longer than they did under the previous law.

The most violent juvenile offenders who commit adult crimes are now receiving adult sentences.

Sexual predators can now be given life sentences with a mandatory minimum of thirty years before ever being eligible for parole.

And victims are now receiving more support and assistance than under any other administration in Missouri's history.

These changes, in addition to greatly increased law enforcement training and resources, are having the desired effect.

The violent crime rate which was headed upward in 1992 has been reversed.

Since that time, Missouri's violent crime rate has decreased by over 26 percent.

To continue our efforts to improve safety and fight crime, this year I am asking your help in cracking down on one of the major causes of deaths and injuries in our state--drunken drivers.

Under the terms of our proposal, the legal blood alcohol content level for drivers of vehicles and boats will be lowered from .10 to .08.

The maximum jail time for a first offense will be increased from six months to one year.

We will also establish a new crime defined as aggravated driving with excessive blood alcohol content for drivers who risk the lives of others by getting behind the wheel with a blood alcohol content of .15 or greater.

Another area of our DWI law which particularly cries out for reform is the way we deal with repeat offenders.

Right now, drunken drivers that put the lives of you and your loved ones at risk can have three prior convictions before they can be convicted of a felony.

I propose those who have a blood alcohol content of .15 or above should receive a felony conviction on the first offense.

And there will be no more escapes for those first-time offenders who are given suspended impositions of sentence for driving under the influence.

That possibility will be gone.

I would also propose that our Boating While Intoxicated laws parallel the DWI laws.

I realize these are extremely tough new provisions, but when you think about one American dying every thirty-two minutes because of an alcohol-related crash or someone being injured every two minutes because of alcohol impaired drivers, tough is what we need to be.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Another door that must be opened wider over the next few years in our state is the one that offers service to seniors.

We rank 12th nationally in the percentage of our population that is age 65 or older.

And projections tell us that by the year 2020, one fourth of our entire state population will be seniors.

From the beginning of our administration, helping seniors achieve the best quality of life possible has been a top priority.

This year, we want to take new steps to assure the quality of care for our elderly and protect them from abuse.

We already have a Long Term Care Ombudsman Program with 345 volunteers visiting our nursing homes and residential care facilities.

Sad as it is to say, most elder abuse occurs at home. We want to establish a new In-Home Ombudsman Program so volunteers can report those incidences of abuse or neglect that are taking place in home settings.

We also want to provide grants to medical schools and other organizations that educate health care professionals for the development of courses and educational materials on elder abuse.

And we will start four new pilot projects called Aging In Place.

The goal of these projects is to enable elderly individuals to remain in their homes and communities as long as possible by delaying or avoiding the need for institutional care through case management and in-home services.

TRANSPORTATION

For the last three years, I have urged Republicans and Democrats to work together with me in opening the door to major improvements in our state transportation system.

We must continue that effort.

Our transportation infrastructure is crucial to our state's economic well being.

But so far, we have been unable to reach consensus on how to move forward.

Consensus is crucial because the reality is that we are either going to move forward together, or we're not going to be able to move forward at all.

Fiscal responsibility is also crucial.

We must develop a plan that will not burden future generations with debt and will not endanger our state's solid bond rating.

But if we work together, we can find a solution, and I remain committed to working with you to do so.

AGRICULTURE

One of the doors we must fight--and fight hard--to keep open leads to new hope for our sagging farm economy.

Low prices at the market and severe weather conditions in many areas have been a devastating combination for Missouri citizens who are trying to make a living by farming.

I want to provide additional resources for our Department of Agriculture to help farmers better market their products and adopt innovative alternatives to traditional agricultural practices.

I am calling for a stronger investment in our Rural Economic Assistance Program to assist rural communities.

And I have called for the immediate formation of a Farm Crisis Response Task Force to review and identify current state and federal resources and regulations to assess how we may be able to help the plight of our family farmers.

CONCLUSION

Since this will be the last time I will come before you in this public setting, I want to thank you, the members of the Missouri General Assembly, for all we have been able to accomplish.

While we have made significant progress together, our work is far from finished.

I have outlined an ambitious agenda for this session, and we owe all Missourians our best efforts.

Before I leave this dais, I want to recognize some others as well.

I want to thank my family for their constant love and support--and particularly my wife Jean, a First Lady who is truly remarkable.

I want to thank our team of statewide elected officials for being just that--a team.

And I want to thank our cabinet.

I also want to give a very special thank you to another team--my staff--both past and present.

No Governor could be more blessed.

To our state workers who give their all every day to provide better service for this state--a big thank you to you.

Once again, I am recommending marketplace salary increases for our state employees.

The average state employee will receive approximately a four percent increase.

And finally, my thanks to the people of the State of Missouri.

Now before I leave this chamber, I want to introduce you to several excellent reasons why we entered public service and why we continue to serve.

These are members of the Tiger Pre-School in Lamar, and they are accompanied by the director of the facility, Colleen Ratcliff.

Tiger Pre-School serves 20 children in the morning and 20 in the afternoon and collaborates with the local Head Start Program to provide services to an additional 10 children.

It is linked with the Lamar school system and is located right across from the middle school.

Because the school district provides funding for professional development under a curriculum training program called Project Construct, Tiger Pre-School is helping to coordinate its services with the other two pre-schools in town and the local Head Start Program.

This is an important first.

But Tiger Pre-School is a first in itself.

The students who attend here would not be receiving early childhood care and education if it weren't for Tiger Pre-School.

And Tiger Pre-School would not be there if it had not been for the support of many of you.

Tiger Pre-School is one of the first new facilities to be established, thanks to House Bill 1519, which expanded our state's early childhood and education programs.

So now I want you to meet this fine group of youngsters who came all the way from Lamar to do a song that they've learned for you.

Ladies and gentlemen, here is our future.

In these eyes rests the vision of dreams unseen.

In these hands lie achievements yet to be realized.

And in these hearts burns the hope of a better Missouri to come.

May the Almighty guide our words and deeds in the days ahead as we go about our business...preparing the way for Missouri's children...by opening doors to a new century.

Thank you.

On motion of Senator DePasco, the Joint Session was dissolved and the Senators returned to the Chamber where they were called to order by Senator Wiggins.

"Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and comes down from the Father of Light." (James 1:17)

Gracious God, we sometimes take for granted Your tenderly providing the wherewithals of life including love and sympathy. As a child will often turn to their father's house in times of trouble, we too need to turn to You as well. But sometimes dark moments shake our belief in Your providence and doubts erase certainty. 1 Timothy 4:8 "Godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is and of that which is to come."

Almighty and ever living God, as we close off another week of service in this place, we return home mindful that not all of the rewards of the life of faith lie on the other side of the grave. We have many of these rewards both here and now in this life; many which are intangible but precious and some very tangible and loving to behold and for which we are most thankful. Help us recognize these most profitable gifts of the life of faith and celebrate the pure joy of them with those we love. Amen.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 24

WHEREAS, families are an important institution in this nation and in the state of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the role that parents play in a child's life is important and the time that parents spend with children is crucial to the future of our society; and

WHEREAS, since 1965, the amount of time that parents spend with their children has dropped forty percent; and

WHEREAS, a 1993 study found that sixty-six percent of adults surveyed nationwide wanted to spend more time with their children; and

WHEREAS, in 1960, less than nineteen percent of married women were in the workforce who had a spouse present and children less than six years of age, yet today, more than sixty percent of such women are in the workplace; and

WHEREAS, currently, seventy-six percent of mothers with school-age children are in the workforce; and

WHEREAS, inflexible work schedules conflict with school hours, day care arrangements and family emergencies; and

WHEREAS, working parents, especially working mothers, require flexible working schedules so that they can take the time to tend to their children's needs; and

WHEREAS, federal law allows public employees to have flexible working schedules, so that such employees can balance the needs of work and family; and

WHEREAS, federal law prohibits employees in the private sector from having flexibility in work schedules which public employees currently enjoy; and

WHEREAS, in the interest of creating equity between private and public sector employment, and in the interest of promoting the importance of family obligations in our society, private sector employees should be allowed to have flexibility in their work schedules in order to meet their family and personal obligations; and

WHEREAS, such flexibility can be established by allowing employees to opt for paid flexible leave; and

WHEREAS, paid flexible leave would allow a private sector employee to choose to work hours in addition to a forty-hour work week, and use those extra hours as compensatory time for a shorter, future work week. Such flexibility could be met by allowing an employee to work eighty hours over a two-week period in any combination that the employee wishes, or by allowing the employee to take time-and-a-half off instead of time-and-a-half pay for any overtime hours worked. The decision to work a flexible schedule would be solely at the option of the employee, not the employer; and

WHEREAS, federal law prohibits such flexibility at the option of the private sector employee:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate of the Second Regular Session of the Ninetieth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that we respectfully urge the Congress of the United States to address this important issue by enacting legislation which would allow private sector employees to be able to choose paid flexible leave as set forth in this resolution; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution to be transmitted forthwith to the President of the United States, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the President of the United States Senate, and to each member of the Missouri Delegation of Congress.

(4) To purchase, receive, hold, lease, or otherwise acquire, or to sell, convey, mortgage, lease, pledge, or otherwise dispose of, real or personal property, together with rights and privileges that are incidental and appurtenant to these transactions of real or personal property, if the real or personal property is for the licensee's use in operating its business or if the real or personal property is acquired by the licensee from time to time in satisfaction of debts or enforcement of obligations;

(5) To make donations for charitable, educational, research, or similar purposes;

(6) To implement a reasonable and prudent policy for conserving and investing its money before the money is used to provide financing assistance to business firms or so pay the expenses of the licensee; and

620.1778. 1. A licensee shall transact its business in a safe and sound manner and shall maintain itself in a safe and sound condition.

2. In determining whether a licensee is transacting business in a safe and sound manner or has committed an unsafe or unsound act, the director shall not consider the risk of a provision of financing assistance to a business firm, unless the director determines that the risk is so great compared with the realistically expected return as to demonstrate gross mismanagement.

3. Subsection 2 of this section authorizes but does not limit the authority of the director to do any of the following:

(1) Determine that a licensee's financing assistance to a single business firm or a group of affiliated business firms is in violation of subsection 1 of this section or constitutes an unsafe or unsound act, if the amount of that financing assistance is unduly large in relation to the total assets or the total shareholders equity of the licensee;

(2) Require that a licensee maintain a reserve in the amount of anticipated losses; and

(3) Require that a licensee have in effect a written financing assistance policy, approved by its board of directors, including credit evaluation and other matters. The director shall not require that a licensee adopt a financing assistance policy that contains standards which prevent the licensee from exercising needed flexibility in evaluating and structuring financing assistance to business firms on a deal by deal basis.

620.1781. 1. Without the prior approval of the director, a person shall not acquire control of a licensee.

2. With respect to an application for approval to acquire control of a licensee, if the director determines, that the applicant and the directors, officers, and managers of the applicant are of good character and sound financial standing, that it is reasonable to believe that, if the applicant acquires control of the licensee, the applicant will comply with this act, and that the applicant's plans, if any, to make a major change in the business, corporate structure, or management of the licensee are not detrimental to the safety and soundness of the licensee, the director shall approve the application. If, after notice and a hearing, the director determines otherwise, the director shall deny the application.

3. For purposes of this section, the director may determine any of the following:

(1) That an applicant or a director, officer, or manager of an applicant is not of good character if that person has been convicted of, or has pleaded nolo contendere to, a crime involving fraud or dishonesty;

(2) That an applicant's plan to make a major change in the management of a licensee is detrimental to the safety and soundness of the licensee if the plan provides for a person to become a director, officer, or manager of the licensee and that person has been convicted of, or has pleaded nolo contendere to, a crime involving fraud or dishonesty; and

(3) The conditions described in subsection 3 of this section are not the only conditions upon which the commissioner may determine that an applicant or a director, officer, or manager of an applicant is not of good character or that an applicant's plan to make a major change in the management of a licensee is detrimental to the safety and soundness of the licensee.

620.1784. 1. A licensee shall not merge with another entity:

(1) If the licensee is the surviving entity, the merger is approved by the director; or

(2) If the licensee is a disappearing entity, the surviving entity is a licensee and the merger is approved by the director.

2. A licensee shall not purchase all or substantially all of the business of another person unless the purchase is approved by the director.

3. A licensee shall not sell all or substantially all of its business or of the business of any of its offices to another person unless that other person is a licensee and the sale is approved by the director.

4. The director shall approve an application for approval of a merger, purchase, or sale, if, and only if, the director determines all of the following:

(1) That the merger, purchase, or sale will be safe and sound with respect to the acquiring licensee;

Further amend said bill, Page 18, Section 135.516, Line 17, by inserting after all of said line the following:

(2) "Director", the director of the department of social services;

(3) "State tax liability", in the case of a business taxpayer, any liability incurred by such taxpayer pursuant to the provisions of chapters 143, 147, 148 and 153, RSMo, exclusive of the provisions relating to the withholding of tax as provided for in sections 143.191 to 143.265, RSMo, and related provisions, and in the case of an individual taxpayer, any liability incurred by such taxpayer pursuant to the provisions of chapter 143, RSMo;

(4) "Taxpayer", a person, firm, a partner in a firm, corporation or a shareholder in an S corporation doing business in the state of Missouri and subject to the state income tax imposed by the provisions of chapter 143, RSMo, or a corporation subject to the annual corporation franchise tax imposed by the provisions of chapter 147, RSMo, or an insurance company paying an annual tax on its gross premium receipts in this state, or other financial institution paying taxes to the state of Missouri or any political subdivision of this state pursuant to the provisions of chapter 148, RSMo, or an express company which pays an annual tax on its gross receipts in this state pursuant to chapter 153, RSMo, or an individual subject to the state income tax imposed by the provisions of chapter 143, RSMo;

(5) "Unplanned pregnancy resource center", a nonresidential facility:

- (a) Located in this state and established and operating for the purpose of providing assistance to women with crisis pregnancies or unplanned pregnancies by offering pregnancy testing, counseling, emotional and material support, and other similar services to encourage and assist such women in carrying their pregnancies to term; and
- (b) Where childbirths are not performed and little or no birth control services are provided; and
- (c) Which does not perform or refer for abortions and which does not hold itself out as performing or referring for abortions; and

- (e) Which provides most of its services at no cost; and
- (f) Which is exempt from income taxation pursuant to the United States Internal Revenue Code.

In cases where two or more unplanned pregnancy resource centers are controlled by the same corporate entity and more than one-half of the annual income of each such center is derived from common fund-raising efforts which benefit all such centers controlled by the same corporate entity, the director shall make one equal apportionment to the corporate entity and not separate equal apportionments to each facility classified as an unplanned pregnancy resource center and controlled by the same corporate entity. However, for purposes of informing taxpayers of which facilities have been classified as unplanned pregnancy resource centers pursuant to subsection 6 of this section, the director may list separately each unplanned pregnancy resource center controlled by the same corporate entity.

2. A taxpayer shall be allowed to claim a tax credit against the taxpayer's state tax liability, in an amount equal to fifty percent of the amount such taxpayer contributed to an unplanned pregnancy resource center.

3. The amount of the tax credit claimed shall not exceed the amount of the taxpayer's state tax liability for the taxable year that the credit is claimed, and such taxpayer shall not be allowed to claim a tax credit in excess of fifty thousand dollars per taxable year. However, any tax credit that cannot be claimed in the taxable year the contribution was made may be carried over to the next four succeeding taxable years until the full credit has been claimed.

4. Except for any excess credit which is carried over pursuant to subsection 3 of this section, a taxpayer shall not be allowed to claim a tax credit unless the total amount of such taxpayer's contribution or contributions to an unplanned pregnancy resource center or centers in such taxpayer's taxable year has a value of at least one hundred dollars.

5. The director shall determine, at least annually, which facilities in this state may be classified as unplanned pregnancy resource centers. The director may require of a facility seeking to be classified as an unplanned pregnancy resource center whatever information which is reasonably necessary to make such a determination. The director shall classify a facility as an unplanned pregnancy resource center if such facility meets the definition set forth in subsection 1 of this section.

6. The director shall establish a procedure by which a taxpayer can determine if a facility has been classified as an unplanned pregnancy resource center. Unplanned pregnancy resource centers shall be permitted to decline a contribution from a taxpayer. The cumulative amount of tax credits which may be claimed by all the taxpayers contributing to unplanned pregnancy resource centers in any one fiscal year shall not exceed two million dollars.

7. The director shall establish a procedure by which, from the beginning of the fiscal year until some point in time later in the fiscal year to be determined by the director, the cumulative amount of tax credits are equally apportioned among all facilities classified as unplanned pregnancy resource centers. If an unplanned pregnancy resource center fails to use all, or some percentage to be determined by the director, of its apportioned tax credits during this predetermined period of time, the director may reapportion these unused tax credits to those unplanned pregnancy resource centers that have used all, or some percentage to be determined by the director, of their apportioned tax credits during this predetermined period of time. The director may establish more than one period of time and reapportion more than once during each fiscal year. To the maximum extent possible, the director shall establish the procedure described in this subsection in such a manner as to ensure that taxpayers can claim all the tax credits possible up to the cumulative amount of tax credits available for the fiscal year.

8. Each unplanned pregnancy resource center shall provide information to the director concerning the identity of each taxpayer making a contribution to the unplanned pregnancy resource center and the amount of the contribution. The director shall provide the information to the director of the department of revenue.

(b) Any digest, analysis, selection, compilation, or derivation of any item listed in paragraph (a) of this subdivision; and

(c) Any index or other manner of access to any item listed in paragraph (a) of this subdivision.

33.853. 1. Sections 33.850 to 33.895 are intended to provide for civil recovery for false or fraudulent claims paid by the state.

2. Any person who:

- (1) Knowingly presents, or causes to be presented, to an officer or employee of the state a false or fraudulent claim for payment or approval;
- (2) Knowingly makes, uses, or causes to be made or used, a false record or statement to get a false or fraudulent claim paid or approved by the state;
- (3) Conspires to defraud the state by getting a false or fraudulent claim allowed or paid;
- (4) Has possession, custody, or control of property or money used, or to be used, by the state regarding health care for the elderly and, intending to defraud the state or willfully to conceal the property, delivers, or causes to be delivered, less property than the amount for which the person receives a certificate or receipt;
- (5) Is authorized to make or deliver a document certifying receipt of property used, or to be used, by the state regarding health care for the elderly and, intending to defraud the state, makes or delivers the receipt without completely knowing that the information on the receipt is true;
- (6) Knowingly buys, or receives as a pledge on an obligation or debt regarding health care for the elderly, public property from an officer or employee of the state who lawfully may not sell or pledge the property; or
- (7) Knowingly makes, uses, or causes to be made or used, a false record or statement to conceal, avoid or decrease an obligation to pay or transmit money or property to the state regarding health care for the elderly, is liable to the state for a civil penalty of not less than five thousand dollars and not more than ten thousand dollars, plus three times the amount of damages which the state sustains because of the act of that person. A person found guilty of violating this section shall also be liable to the state for the costs of a civil action brought to recover any such penalty or damages.

3. This section does not apply to claims, records, or statements made pursuant to chapter 143, RSMo.

33.856. 1. The attorney general shall diligently investigate a civil violation pursuant to sections 33.850 to 33.895. If the attorney general finds that a person has violated or is violating section 33.853, the attorney general may bring a civil action pursuant to this section against the person.

2. A person may bring a civil action for a violation of section 33.853 for the person and for the state. The action shall be brought in the name of the state. The action may be dismissed only if the court and the attorney general give written consent to the dismissal and their reasons for consenting.

3. A copy of the complaint and written disclosure of substantially all material evidence and information the person possesses shall be served on the attorney general for the state. The complaint shall be filed in camera, shall remain under seal for at least sixty days, and shall not be served on the defendant until the court so orders. The state may elect to intervene and proceed with the action within sixty days after it receives both the complaint and the material evidence and information.

4. The state may, for good cause shown, move the court for extensions of the time during which the complaint remains under seal pursuant to subsection 3 of this section. Any such motions may be supported by affidavits or other submissions in camera. The defendant shall not be required to respond to any complaint filed pursuant to this section until thirty days after the complaint is unsealed and served upon the defendant.

5. Before the expiration of the sixty-day period or any extensions obtained pursuant to subsection 4 of this section, the state shall:

(1) Proceed with the action, in which case the action shall be conducted by the state; or

(2) Notify the court that it declines to take over the action, in which case the person bringing the action shall have the right to conduct the action.

6. When a person brings an action pursuant to this section, no person other than the state may intervene or bring a related action based on the facts underlying the pending action.

7. If the false or fraudulent claim involves the attorney general's office, then the state auditor shall assume all powers, duties and obligations that the attorney general has pursuant to sections 33.850 to 33.856.

33.859. 1. If the state proceeds with the action, it shall have the primary responsibility for prosecuting the action, and shall not be bound by an act of the person bringing the action. Such person shall have the right to continue as a party to the action, subject to the limitations set forth in subsection 2 of this section.

2. (1) The state may dismiss the action notwithstanding the objections of the person initiating the action if the person has been notified by the state of the filing of the motion and the court has provided the person with an opportunity for a hearing on the motion.

(2) The state may settle the action with the defendant notwithstanding the objections of the person initiating the action if the court determines, after a hearing, that the proposed settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable under all the circumstances. Upon a showing of good cause, such hearing may be held in camera.

(3) Upon a showing by the state that unrestricted participation during the course of the litigation by the person initiating the action would interfere with or unduly delay the state's prosecution of the case, or would be repetitious, irrelevant, or for purposes of harassment, the court may, in its discretion, impose limitations on the person's participation, such as:

(a) Limiting the number of witnesses the person may call;

(b) Limiting the length of the testimony of such witnesses;

(c) Limiting the person's cross-examination of witnesses; or

(d) Otherwise limiting the participation by the person in the litigation.

(4) Upon a showing by the defendant that unrestricted participation during the course of the litigation by the person initiating the action would be for purposes of harassment or would cause the defendant undue burden or unnecessary expense, the court may limit the participation by the person in the litigation.

3. If the state elects not to proceed with the action, the person who initiated the action shall have the right to conduct the action. If the state so requests, it shall be served with copies of all pleadings filed in the action and shall be supplied with copies of all deposition transcripts at the state's expense. When a person proceeds with the action, the court, without limiting the status and rights of the person initiating the action, may nevertheless permit the state to intervene at a later date upon a showing of good cause.

4. Whether or not the state proceeds with the action, upon a showing by the state that certain actions of discovery by the person initiating the action would interfere with the state's investigation or prosecution of a criminal or civil matter arising out of the same facts, the court may stay such discovery for a period of not more than sixty days. Such a showing shall be conducted in camera. The court may extend the sixty-day period upon a further showing in camera that the state has pursued the criminal or civil investigation or proceedings with reasonable diligence and any proposed discovery in the civil action will interfere with the ongoing criminal or civil investigation or proceedings.

5. The state may elect to pursue its claim through any alternate remedy available to the state, including any administrative proceeding to determine a civil penalty. If any such alternate remedy is pursued in another proceeding, the person initiating the action shall have the same rights in such proceeding as such person would have had if the action had continued pursuant to this section. Any finding of fact or conclusion of law made in such other proceeding that has become final shall be conclusive on all parties to an action pursuant to this section.

33.862. 1. If the state proceeds with an action brought by a person pursuant to section 33.856, such person shall receive at least fifteen percent but not more than twenty-five percent of the proceeds of the action or settlement of the claim, depending upon the extent to which the person substantially contributed to the prosecution of the action. Where the action is one which the court finds to be based primarily on disclosures of specific information, other than information provided by the person bringing the action, the court may award such sums as it considers appropriate, but in no case more than ten percent of the proceeds, taking into account the significance of the information and the role of the person bringing the action in advancing the case to litigation. Any payment to a person shall be made from the proceeds. Any such person shall also receive an amount for reasonable expenses which the court finds to have been necessarily incurred, plus reasonable attorneys' fees and costs. The state shall also receive an amount for reasonable expenses which the court finds to have been necessarily incurred by the attorney general, including reasonable attorneys' fees and costs, and the amount received shall be deposited in the whistleblower reward and protection fund created in section 33.895. All such expenses, fees, and costs shall be awarded against the defendant upon a finding of guilt.

2. If the state does not proceed with an action pursuant to this section, the person bringing the action or settling the claim shall receive an amount which the court decides is reasonable for collecting the civil penalty and damages. The amount shall be not less than twenty-five percent and not more than thirty percent of the proceeds of the action or settlement and shall be paid out of such proceeds. Such person shall also receive an amount for reasonable expenses which the court finds to have been necessarily incurred, plus reasonable attorneys' fees and costs. All such expenses, fees, and costs shall be awarded against the defendant.

3. Whether or not the state proceeds with the action, if the court finds that the action was brought by a person who planned and initiated the violation of section 33.853 upon which the action was brought, then the court may, to the extent the court considers appropriate, reduce the share of the proceeds of the action which the person would otherwise receive pursuant to this section, taking into account the role of that person in advancing the case to litigation and any relevant circumstances pertaining to the violation. If the person bringing the action is convicted of criminal conduct arising from his or her role in the violation of section 33.853, that person shall be dismissed from the civil action and shall not receive any share of the proceeds of the action. Such dismissal shall not prejudice the right of the state to continue the action.

4. If the state does not proceed with the action and the person bringing the action conducts the action, the court may award to the defendant its reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses if the defendant prevails in the action and the court finds that the claim of the person bringing the action was clearly frivolous, clearly vexatious, or brought primarily for purposes of harassment.

33.865. 1. (1) No court shall have jurisdiction over an action brought pursuant to section 33.856 against a member of the general assembly, a member of the judiciary, or an exempt official if the action is based on evidence or information known as the violation to the state when the action was brought.

(2) In no event may a person bring an action pursuant to section 33.856 which is based upon allegations or transactions which are the subject of a civil suit or an administrative civil penalty proceeding in which the state is already a party.

(3) No court shall have jurisdiction over an action pursuant to this section based upon the public disclosure of allegations or transactions in a criminal, civil, or administrative hearing, in a legislative, administrative, or auditor report, hearing, audit, or investigation, or from the news media, unless the action is brought by the attorney general or the person bringing the action is an original source of the information.

2. The state is not liable for expenses which a person incurs in bringing an action pursuant to section 33.856.

3. Any employee who is discharged, demoted, suspended, threatened, harassed, or in any other manner discriminated against in the terms and conditions of employment by his or her employer because of lawful acts done pursuant to sections 33.850 to 33.895, shall be entitled to all relief necessary to make the employee whole. Such relief shall include reinstatement with the seniority status such employee would have had but for the discrimination, interest on the back pay which would have been otherwise due, two times the amount of back pay, and compensation for any special damages sustained as a result of the discrimination, including litigation costs and reasonable attorneys' fees. An employee may bring an action in the appropriate circuit court for the relief provided in this subsection.

33.868. 1. A subpoena requiring the attendance of a witness at a trial or hearing conducted pursuant to section 33.859 may be served at any place in the state.

2. A civil action pursuant to section 33.856 may not be brought:

(1) More than six years after the date on which the alleged violation of section 33.853 is committed; or

(2) More than three years after the date when facts material to the right of action are known or reasonably should have been known by the official of the state charged with responsibility to act in the circumstances, whichever occurs last.

3. In any action brought pursuant to section 33.856, the state or the person shall be required to prove all essential elements of the cause of action, including damages, by a preponderance of the evidence.

4. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a final judgment rendered in favor of the state in any criminal proceeding charging fraud or false statements, whether upon a verdict after trial or upon a plea of guilty, shall estop the defendant from denying the essential elements of the offense in any action which involves the same transaction as in the criminal proceeding and which is brought pursuant to subdivision (1) or (2) of subsection 5 of section 33.856.

33.871. 1. When it appears to the attorney general that a person has engaged in, is engaging in or is about to engage in any violation of section 33.853 or when he or she believes it to be in the public interest that an investigation should be made to ascertain whether a person in fact has engaged in, is engaging in, or is about to engage in any such act or practice he or she may issue and cause to be served a civil investigative demand to assist in the investigation of the matter. The issuance and enforcement of each civil investigative demand shall be conducted in compliance with all of the terms and provisions of sections 407.040 to 407.090, except as provided for in sections 33.850 to 33.895.

2. Any person served a civil investigative demand shall have the right to the assistance of counsel.

33.874. Any civil investigative demand issued pursuant to section 33.871 may be served as the Missouri rules of civil procedure prescribes for service of process. To the extent that the courts of this state can assert jurisdiction over any person outside the state consistent with due process, the courts of this state shall have the same jurisdiction to take any action respecting compliance with this section against any such person that such court would have if such person were personally within the jurisdiction of such court.

33.877. A verified return by the individual serving any civil investigative demand issued pursuant to section 33.871 or any petition filed pursuant to section 33.856 setting forth the manner of such service shall be proof of such service. In the case of service by registered or certified mail, such return shall be accompanied by the return post office receipt of delivery of such demand.

33.880. 1. The oral testimony of any person taken pursuant to a civil investigative demand shall be taken in the county within which such person resides, is found, or transacts business, or in such other place as may be agreed upon by the investigator conducting the examination and such person.

2. When the testimony is fully transcribed, the investigator or the officer before whom the testimony is taken shall afford the witness, who may be accompanied by counsel, a reasonable opportunity to examine and read the transcript, unless such examination and reading are waived by the witness. Any changes in form or substance which the witness desires to make shall be entered and identified upon the transcript by the officer or the investigator, with a statement of the reasons given by the witness for making such changes. The transcript shall then be signed by the witness, unless the witness in writing waives the signing, is ill, cannot be found, or refuses to sign. If the transcript is not signed by the witness within thirty days after being afforded a reasonable opportunity to examine it, the officer or investigator shall sign it and state on the record the fact of the waiver, illness, absence of the witness, or the refusal to sign, together with the reasons, if any, given therefor.

33.883. 1. The attorney general shall designate the Missouri state highway patrol to serve as custodian of documentary material, answers to interrogatories, and transcripts of oral testimony received pursuant to sections 33.850 to 33.895, and shall designate additional employees of the Missouri state highway patrol as the attorney general determines from time to time to be necessary to serve as deputies to the custodian.

2. An investigator who receives any documentary material, answers to interrogatories, or transcripts of oral testimony pursuant to this section shall transmit them to the custodian. The custodian shall take physical possession of such material, and shall be responsible for the use made of them and for their return pursuant to subsection 5 of this section. The custodian may cause the preparation of such copies of such material as may be required for official use.

3. Nothing in this section is intended to prevent disclosure to the general assembly, including any committee or subcommittee of the general assembly, or to any other state agency for use by such agency in furtherance of its statutory responsibilities. Disclosure of information to any such other agency shall be allowed only upon application, made by the attorney general to a circuit court, showing substantial need for the use of the information by such agency in furtherance of its statutory responsibilities.

4. Whenever any attorney has been designated to appear on behalf of the state before any court, grand jury, or state agency in any case or proceeding, the custodian of any documentary material, answers to interrogatories, or transcripts of oral testimony received pursuant to this section shall deliver to such attorney such material, answers, or transcripts for official use in connection with any such case or proceeding as such attorney determines to be required. Upon the completion of any such case or proceeding, such attorney shall return to the custodian any such material, answers, or transcripts so delivered which have not passed into the control of such court, grand jury, or agency through introduction into the record of such case or proceeding.

5. Material produced in the course of any investigation pursuant to a civil investigative demand shall be returned, upon written request of the person who produced such material, to such person except authorized copies or those which have passed into the control of any court, grand jury, or agency through introduction into the record of such case or proceeding, if:

(1) Any case or proceeding before the court or grand jury arising out of such investigation, or any proceeding before any state agency involving such material, has been completed; or

(2) No case or proceeding in which such material may be used has been commenced within a reasonable time after completion of the examination and analysis of all documentary material and other information assembled in the course of such investigation.

33.886. 1. At any time during which any custodian is in custody or control of any material received pursuant to section 33.871, such person as provided the material, and in the case of an express demand for any product of discovery, the person from whom such discovery was obtained, may file, in the circuit court of the county within which the office of such custodian holding any of the material is situated, and serve upon such custodian, a petition for an order of such court to require the performance by the custodian of any duty imposed upon the custodian by this section.

2. Whenever any petition is filed in any circuit court pursuant to this section, such court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the matter so presented, and to enter such orders as may be required to carry out the provisions of this section. Any final order so entered shall be subject to appeal in the same manner as appeals of other final orders in civil matters. Any disobedience of any final order entered pursuant to this section by any court shall be punished as a contempt of the court.

33.889. Any documentary material, answers to written interrogatories, or oral testimony provided under any civil investigative demand shall be a closed record pursuant to chapter 610, RSMo.

33.892. The Missouri rules of civil procedure shall apply to all proceedings pursuant to sections 33.850 to 33.895, except when rules are inconsistent with sections 33.850 to 33.895.

33.895. 1. There is hereby created the "Whistleblower Reward and Protection Fund" within the state treasury. All proceeds of an action or settlement of a claim brought pursuant to sections 33.850 to 33.895 shall be transmitted to the director of revenue for deposit in the fund.

2. Monies in the fund shall be allocated, subject to appropriation, as follows: One-sixth of the moneys shall be paid to the attorney general and one-sixth of the moneys shall be paid to the Missouri state highway patrol for state law enforcement purposes. The remaining two-thirds of the moneys in the fund shall be used for payment of awards to citizen plaintiffs, for attorneys' fees and expenses, and as otherwise specified in sections 33.850 to 33.895. The attorney general shall direct the state treasurer to make disbursement of funds as provided in court orders setting those awards, fees, and expenses. The state treasurer shall transfer any fund balances in excess of those required for these purposes to the general revenue fund at the end of each biennium."; and

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Pro Tem Quick in the Chair.

In a dark time during the period of the Reformation, Martin Luther entered a melancholy mood, to wit his wife Kate put on mourning clothes. When Luther asked her why his wife Kate responded: "Why, I thought that God had died, the way that you've been acting; and so I thought it proper that I should go into mourning."

Gracious God, You know how often we plod along our pathways as though Your house was empty, as though there were no living and loving Father there to care for us, guide us, and shield us with His might and mercy. Help us to have the faith and trust in You that lightens our steps and strengthens our resolve so that we may use the gifts You have given us to complete the work You have given us to do. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senators Maxwell, Westfall, Graves and Steelman offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 27

WHEREAS, Missouri producers must have readily available markets in order to remain competitive in the agriculture industry; and

WHEREAS, the ongoing trend of consolidation and mergers in American agriculture economy is having an adverse impact on Missouri farmers and ranchers; and

WHEREAS, farmers' and ranchers' concerns are highlighted by the recent court injunction on the purchase of Murphy Family Farms, Inc. assets in Missouri by Smithfield Foods, Inc.; and

WHEREAS, other Midwestern states have raised similar concerns about the same transaction and have received similar court rulings; and

WHEREAS, this transaction is but one example of the level of interest in antitrust issues particularly within the agricultural sector of the economy; and

WHEREAS, competition remains critical for agricultural producers for the inputs they purchase and the products they sell; and

WHEREAS, the absence of competitive markets not only hurts farmers but ultimately will hurt consumers as well; and

WHEREAS, these anti-competitive forces are not targeted at specific states, but are more regional, national and in some cases, international in nature; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri legislature believes Congress, the United States Department of Agriculture and the United States Department of Justice should do more on consolidation and concentration issues in the agricultural sector; and

WHEREAS, in the absence of action by Congress, several state legislatures are pursuing ways to combat the anti-competitive forces currently at work in the agriculture markets; and

WHEREAS, Missouri lawmakers' concerns are heightened by the importance of agriculture to Missouri's rural communities; and

WHEREAS, Missouri lawmakers believe that consolidation and concentration issues of this magnitude demand prompt attention by lawmakers and regulators at the federal level:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby call upon the 106th Congress of the United States to immediately:

1. Expand the United States Department of Agriculture's role in evaluating agribusiness mergers and acquisitions;
2. Encourage the appointment of an Assistant Attorney General at the Department of Justice with the sole responsibility of handling agriculture mergers and acquisition;
3. Provide additional resources to expand the capability of the Grain Inspection, Packers and Stockyards Administration (GIPSA) to monitor, investigate and pursue the competitive implications of structural changes in the meat packing industry;
4. Support an increase in the staff of the Transportation, Energy and Agriculture section of the Department of Justice;

5. Prohibit the enforcement of confidentiality clauses in livestock production contracts and grain production contracts except to the extent that a legitimate trade secret is being protected;
6. Allow GIPSA to seek reparations for producers when a packer is found to be engaged in predatory or unfair practices;
7. Provide contract poultry growers the same protections as livestock producers by extending the powers of GIPSA to cover live poultry dealers;
8. Authorize a statutory trust for the protection of cash sellers to livestock dealers; and
9. Consider any other measure that will lead to greater competition within the United States' agricultural sector; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Missouri Congressional delegation, the United States Department of Agriculture, and the United States Department of Justice.

WHEREAS, the legislature determines it is advisable to promote uniformity among the methods used by insurers of this state to value life insurance policies; and

WHEREAS, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners have adopted model regulations for the valuation of life insurance policies which, if used by insurers in this state, would unify the valuation of life insurance policies in this state; and

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 17

Whereas, Derrick Thomas' immense talent on the football field was matched by his caring and generous spirit in the Kansas City community; and

Whereas, in his eleven year career as a Kansas City Chief, Derrick Thomas established himself as one of the NFL's most dominant defensive players and feared pass rushers, and firmly etched his place in history as one of the Kansas City Chiefs best linebackers; and

Whereas, Derrick Thomas made nine Pro Bowl appearances, the most of any player in the illustrious history of the Kansas City Chiefs; established team career records for sacks, safeties and fumble recoveries during his career; and his twenty sacks in 1990 set a Chiefs single-season mark, with his seven-sack game in 1990 setting an NFL single-game record; and

Whereas, Derrick Thomas was named the Chiefs Most Valuable Player following the 1991 and 1994 seasons, won the 1994 Genuine Heroes Award and received the league's two most prestigious humanitarian awards: the 1993 NFL Man of the Year and the 1995 Byron "Whizzer" White

Humanitarian Award for service to team, community and country; and

Whereas, as the son of an Air Force Captain, Derrick Thomas was five years old when his father's plane was shot down while it was returning from a mission in Vietnam on December 17, 1972. With his father declared legally dead in 1980 as a Vietnam MIA, Derrick Thomas had a special relationship with veterans. He delivered the keynote address at the Vietnam Veterans Memorial during the Memorial Day ceremony in 1993 and volunteered regularly at Kansas City's veterans' hospital; and

Whereas, the notable achievements of Derrick Thomas off the football field were equally remarkable to his achievements on the football field. Derrick started an inner-city reading program with his "Third and Long Foundation" ten years ago and as its founder read to children at local libraries each home Saturday during football season; he was the Kansas City Chief's United Way spokesperson; and he was designated by former President George Bush as the "832nd point of light" in the President's Thousand Points of Light campaign:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninetieth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, do hereby instruct the State Highways and Transportation Commission and the Department of Transportation to take action immediately to name a section of Interstate 70 from Blue Ridge Cut Off at the George Brett Bridge on the west to Highway 291 on the east, the "Derrick Thomas Memorial Highway".

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the State Highways and Transportation Commission and the director of the Department of Transportation.

Journal of the Senate

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

TWENTY-NINTH DAY--WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 2000

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Pro Tem Quick in the Chair.

The Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

"Do you not know that I must be about my Father's business?" (Luke 2:49)

Heavenly Father, help us cultivate that sense of "I must!" in all that we do here. Help us in our service to the public, our contributions to the state, our daily service to our fellow men and women we serve with; give us that sense of "divine necessity." Help us see that we are called to do this not as unwilling slaves of a cruel habit, but because Your love for us leaves us no choice - We must because we want to! This we ask in Your Holy Name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

THIRTIETH DAY--THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 2000

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Johnson in the Chair.

The Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

"As a man thinks in his heart, so is he." (Proverbs 23:7)

Creator, Redeemer of this world, hear our prayer this day as we prepare to finish up our work and head home to be with loved ones and family. Let us be mindful that You are the Creator and we are the creature. You have created us so that we might be comforted knowing that we are just men and women, husbands and wives, fathers and mothers called to be interdependent with one another and therefore in need of one another to be made whole by thinking no more of ourselves than we should. Help us use this time for rest and recreation, doing all things in moderation. Amen.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 28

WHEREAS, a petition is being circulated to radically change Missouri law with respect to the regulation of outdoor advertising signs; and

WHEREAS, every year since 1995, the General Assembly has enacted legislation increasing the restrictions on outdoor advertising signs; and

WHEREAS, after reaching a reasonable compromise agreement that met with the approval of both the advertising industry and citizens interested in scenic beauty, in 1999 the General Assembly made several changes further restricting outdoor advertising signs; and

WHEREAS, outdoor advertising signs have already been reduced from over 40,000 signs in 1968 to approximately 13,500 this year, and will eventually be further reduced under the current statute; and

WHEREAS, the outdoor advertising industry in this state employs 500 people directly, and 5,000 people indirectly; and annually pays over $17.5 million in payroll and $12 million in lease payments to landowners; and

WHEREAS, tourism and travel related services use 70% of the outdoor advertising signs; and

WHEREAS, at $12 billion a year, with over 200,000 employees, Missouri tourism is one of the top three industries in the state; and

WHEREAS, the proposed petition goes too far and would require the expenditure of millions of tax dollars to condemn and remove signs, and would prevent the routine removal of vegetation growing up in front of existing signs, and would have a deleterious impact on the tourism industry in Missouri, and on rural landowners who depend on lease payments:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby find no justification at this time for further statutory changes related to the outdoor advertising industry in Missouri; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Karl Kruse,

Psalm 139:18: "When I awake, I am still with Thee."

Gracious God, You know how often many of us awaken in the midst of the night knowing there is yet more to get done. We feel the pressures to be on top of all that comes our way. We know fatigue from not enough sleep and working too many hours. But there is comfort knowing You are with us; Your grace is sufficient for us to deal with what comes our way, and Your desire for us to know our limitations and do all things in moderation. Help us and remind us of Your presence and will for us dear God. Amen.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Goode offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 29

WHEREAS, the General Assembly finds, for the purpose of streamlining and simplifying sales and use tax imposition and collection for the twenty-first century, that:

Missouri should simplify sales and use taxes to reduce the administrative burden on the collection of sales and use taxes by both single state and multistate taxpayers and vendors;

State and local tax systems should treat transactions in a competitively neutral manner;

A simplified sales and use tax system that treats all transactions in a competitively neutral manner will strengthen and preserve the sales and use tax as vital state and local revenue sources and will preserve state fiscal sovereignty;

Remote sellers should neither receive preferential tax treatment at the expense of local "main street" merchants, nor be burdened with special, discriminatory or multiple taxes; and

While states have the sovereign right to set their own tax policies, states working together have the opportunity to develop a more simple, uniform and fair system of state sales and use taxation without federal government mandates of interference; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly directs the Missouri Department of Revenue to enter into discussions with other states regarding the development of a multistate, voluntary, streamlined system for sales and use tax collection and administration. Such discussions shall focus on a system that would have the capability to determine whether transactions are taxable or tax exempt, the appropriate tax rate applicable to transactions, the total tax due on transactions, the provision of a method to collect and remit sales and use taxes to the state and the development of a joint request for information from potential public and private parties governing the specification for the system; and

WHEREAS, discussions between the Department of Revenue and other states may also include, but shall not be limited to providing compensation for the costs of collecting and remitting sales and use taxes; the mechanism for compensating parties for the development and operation of such system; the establishment of minimum statutory simplification measures necessary for state participation in such system; and the establishment of measures to preserve confidentiality of taxpayer information and privacy rights of consumers; and

WHEREAS, upon the conclusion of its discussions with other states, the Department of Revenue shall issue a joint request for information; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Revenue is authorized to participate in a sales tax pilot project with other states and selected businesses to test means for simplifying sales and use tax administration, and to enter into joint agreements, which terminate no later than December 31, 2001, for that purpose. Agreements to participate in the test shall establish provisions for the administration, imposition and collection of sales and use taxes resulting in revenues paid that are equal to those that would otherwise be paid pursuant to chapter 144, RSMo. Parties to the agreements are excused from complying with the provisions of chapter 144, RSMo, to the extent a different procedure is required by the agreements, except for confidentiality of taxpayer information as discussed in this resolution; and

WHEREAS, tax return information submitted to any party or parties' action for and on behalf of this state shall be treated as confidential taxpayer information. Disclosure of confidential taxpayer information shall only be made pursuant to a written agreement between the Department of Revenue and the party or parties. Such party or parties shall be bound by the same requirements of confidentiality as the Department of Revenue pursuant to section 32.057, RSMo; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly herein creates the Multistate Tax Compact Advisory Committee to provide legislative oversight of this effort. The committee shall consist of two members of the Senate appointed by the President Pro Tem, two members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker, the director of the Department of Revenue, the Attorney General and his or her designee, and a member of the Governor's staff to be designated by the Governor. The committee shall meet on a monthly basis at the request of the director of the Department of Revenue, who shall be the chairman, or more often if requested by a majority of the committee members; and

WHEREAS, the committee shall provide a quarterly report on the progress of the multistate tax discussion and other tax simplification efforts to the President Pro Tem of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Governor. By October 1, 2001, the committee shall also provide to the President Pro Tem of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Governor a final report on the status of multistate discussions, including information as to whether a proposed system has been agreed upon by participating states and whether or not Missouri should participate in such agreed upon system:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby determine that streamlining and simplifying sales and use tax systems in this state will promote commerce in this state and hereby direct the Department of Revenue to work toward the goal of streamlining and simplifying sales and use taxes in this state in a manner as specified herein and as overseen by the Multistate Tax Compact Advisory Committee created herein; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Department of Revenue.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 3

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 678 and 742, Page 11, Section 196.790, Line 11, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"211.185. 1. In addition to the court's authority to issue an order for the child to make restitution or reparation for the damage or loss caused by his offense as provided in section 211.181, the court may enter a judgment of restitution against both the parent and the child pursuant to the provisions of this section if the court finds that the parent has failed to exercise reasonable parental discipline or authority to prevent the damage or loss and the child has:

(1) Stolen, damaged, destroyed, converted, unlawfully obtained, or substantially decreased the value of the property of another; or

(2) Inflicted personal injury on another, requiring the injured person to incur medical, dental, hospital, funeral, or burial expenses.

2. The court may order both the parent and the child to make restitution to:

(1) The victim;

(2) Any governmental entity; or

(3) A third-party payor, including an insurer, that has made payment to the victim to compensate the victim for a property loss or a pecuniary loss under subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section.

3. Restitution payments to the victim have priority over restitution payments to a third-party payor. If the victim has been compensated for the victim's loss by a third-party payor, the court may order restitution payments to the third-party payor in the amount that the third-party payor compensated the victim.

4. Payment of restitution to a victim under this section has priority over payment of restitution to any governmental entity.

5. Considering the age and circumstances of a child, the court may order the child to make restitution to the wronged person personally.

6. A restitution hearing to determine the liability of the parent and the child shall be held not later than thirty days after the disposition hearing and may be extended by the court for good cause. In the restitution hearing, a written statement or bill for medical, dental, hospital, funeral, or burial expenses shall be prima facie evidence that the amount indicated on the written statement or bill represents a fair and reasonable charge for the services or materials provided. The burden of proving that the amount indicated on the written statement or bill is not fair and reasonable shall be on the person challenging the fairness and reasonableness of the amount.

7. A judgment of restitution against a parent may not be entered unless the parent has been afforded a reasonable opportunity to be heard and to present appropriate evidence in his behalf. The parent shall be advised of his right to obtain counsel for representation at the hearing. A hearing under this section may be held as part of an adjudicatory or disposition hearing for the child.

8. The judgment may be enforced in the same manner as enforcing monetary judgments.

9. A judgment of restitution ordered pursuant to this section against a child and his parents shall not be a bar to a proceeding against the child and his parents pursuant to section 537.045, RSMo, or section 8.150, RSMo, for the balance of the damages not paid pursuant to this section. In no event, however, may the total restitution paid by the child and his parents pursuant to this section, section 8.150, RSMo, and section 537.045, RSMo, exceed [four] twenty thousand dollars.

10. The child may be ordered to work in a court-approved community service work site at a rate of compensation not to exceed minimum wage. The number of hours worked shall be reported to the juvenile officer and the compensation earned for these hours shall be used for the sole purpose of satisfying the judgment entered against the child in accordance with this section. Upon application by the juvenile officer made with the juvenile court's written approval, the clerk of the court of the circuit where the fund is deposited and where a judgment has been entered in accordance with this section shall pay the compensation earned by the child to the person in whose favor the judgment has been entered.

11. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section to the contrary, a judgment of restitution ordered pursuant to this section against a child may be executed upon after the child attains the age of eighteen years.

537.045. 1. The parent or guardian, excluding foster parents, of any unemancipated minor, under eighteen years of age, in their care and custody, against whom judgment has been rendered for purposely marking upon, defacing or in any way damaging any property, shall be liable for the payment of that judgment up to an amount not to exceed [two] twenty thousand dollars, provided that the parent or guardian has been joined as a party defendant in the original action. The judgment provided in this subsection to be paid shall be paid to the owner of the property damaged, but such payment shall not be a bar to any criminal action or any proceeding against the unemancipated minor for such damage for the balance of the judgment not paid by the parent or guardian.

2. The parent or guardian, excluding foster parents, of any unemancipated minor, under eighteen years of age, in their care and custody, against whom judgment has been rendered for purposely causing personal injury to any individual, shall be liable for the payment for that judgment up to an amount not to exceed [two] twenty thousand dollars, provided that the parent or guardian has been joined as a party defendant in the original action. The judgment provided in this subsection to be paid shall be paid to the person injured, but such payment shall not be a bar to any criminal action or any proceeding against the unemancipated minor for such damage for the balance of the judgment not paid by the parent or guardian.

3. Upon rendering a judgment in any proceeding under this section, the judge may order the parent or guardian, and the minor who damaged the property or caused the personal injury, to work for the owner of the property damaged or the person injured in lieu of payment, if the parent, minor and the owner of the property damaged or the person injured are agreeable."; and

"650.055. 1. Every individual convicted in a Missouri circuit court, of a felony, defined as a violent offense under chapter 565, RSMo, or as a sex offense under chapter 566, RSMo, excluding sections 566.010 and 566.020, RSMo, shall have a blood or scientifically accepted biological sample collected for purposes of DNA profiling analysis:

Any evidence leading to a conviction of a felony described in this subsection which has been or can be tested for DNA shall be preserved by the Missouri state highway patrol.

2. The Missouri state highway patrol and department of corrections shall be responsible for ensuring adherence to the law. Any person required to provide a DNA sample pursuant to this section shall be required to provide such sample, without the right of refusal, at a collection site designated by the Missouri state highway patrol and the department of corrections. Authorized personnel collecting or assisting in the collection of samples shall not be liable in any civil or criminal action when the act is performed in a reasonable manner. Such force may be used as necessary to the effectual carrying out and application of such processes and operations. 5. Implementation of section 650.050 and this section shall be subject to future appropriations to keep Missouri's DNA system compatible with the Federal Bureau of Investigation's DNA data bank system.

6. A defendant convicted of any felony listed in subsection 1 of this section may make a motion before the trial court that entered the judgment of conviction in his or her case for DNA testing on the defendant and on evidence that was secured in relation to the trial which resulted in the conviction. The defendant shall serve notice of the motion upon the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the conviction occurred. The defendant shall present a prima facie case that identity was a contested issue in the defendant's trial. If the defendant establishes a prima facie case, and the trial court determines that the results of the testing have the scientific potential to produce new, noncumulative evidence materially relevant to the defendant's assertion of actual innocence, the trial court shall order the state to compare DNA test results regarding the trial evidence and the defendant."; and

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Pro Tem Quick in the Chair.

The Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

I Corinthians 16:9: "A wide door for effective work has opened to me, and there are many adversaries."

Almighty God, we have so many opportunities to do good work with our lives and with that work are the challenges from those who would try to discourage us from what we believe is right for the people we serve. Give us the heart O Lord, to tell our story, to convince those who would hinder us from the importance of what we are trying to do with tact and grace. And open more and more doors for us and the courage to enter them. Amen.

WHEREAS, it is always a sad and sorrowful occasion when the members of the Missouri Senate pause to honor the memory of an individual who had brought a tremendous degree of joy into the lives of those who cherished him so very dearly; and

WHEREAS, Donald Harbaugh of Independence, Missouri, departed this life on March 2, 2000, leaving his loved ones with a treasure of priceless memories that will ease the burden of their loss and continue to sustain them with comforting thoughts well beyond this initial period of bereavement; and

WHEREAS, Donald Harbaugh returned to his native Kansas City in 1983 and spent the past seventeen years employed by the Little Blue Valley Sewer District as engineer technician, in which capacity he had enjoyed a considerable degree of success; and

WHEREAS, although there are no words adequate to express sympathy to the dear ones he has left behind, this legislative body hopes that his parents, Del and Verlee Harbaugh; his uncle, Lee Roy Anderson; and his numerous cousins will find the strength to persevere through the depth of their faith and the enormity of the love that unites them as a precious family:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, pause in a moment of silence to pay final tribute to Donald Harbaugh, beloved cousin of the Honorable Ronnie DePasco, and to let his family know that our thoughts and our prayers are with them as they strive to cope with the sorrow and grief that have so profoundly impacted their lives; and

Psalm 51:11: "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me."

God of Great Compassion, throughout history You have called Your people of every tribe and nation to return to You, to repent of wrong doing, and be open for a "right spirit" within. For us Christians we observe Ash Wednesday and the season of Lent; it is for us to remember Your call to repent and return to You our God. Help us hear Your call to all people of every faith to follow Your guidance in the midst of temptations and empty promises and let us be filled with hope, renewed through Your constant forgiveness and live the promise of Your abiding presence. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

We are to let hard feelings and angry words go for they will only tie us to the past. You teach us to be open to what is and what will come. So help us therefore to do more good with our lives as we begin this new week, letting go of past hindrances and respond to the opportunities You present before us. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

"I have heard of You by the hearing of the ear, but now my eye sees You." (Job 42:5)

Merciful Father, as we are disciplined and tested in the crucible of life we experience the blessing of every believing child of You, our God. We believe we can never sufficiently thank You for the gift of eyes to see the burden of our failures yet can see beyond them to the opportunities to joyously serving those who are truly in need of our help. Send us Your Holy Spirit who can wondrously provide us the "inner eyes" that can see the wonders of Your love in our lives. Amen.

Journal of the Senate

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FORTY-SECOND DAY--THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 2000

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Pro Tem Quick in the Chair.

The Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

"Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life." (Proverbs 4:23)

Gracious God, we acknowledge that the heart is seen by us as the seat of human emotion and it does us well to search it thoroughly to make sure all is in order, for we know that our outward behavior often reflects what is going on in our hearts. Help us to weed out that which threatens and brings destruction and fill it with faith, hope and love for You and towards our family and friends and those we serve. And watch our "going out and coming in" this weekend and provide us opportunities for re-creation during our spring break. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The hospital may accept custody of the infant or child from the parent and the hospital shall immediately notify the division of family services which will then apply to the court for legal custody of the child.

2. If a parent of an infant or child relinquishes custody of the infant or child to a hospital as provided in subsection 1 of this section, then by operation of law and, pending court proceedings:

(1) All of the parent's rights with respect to the infant or child are terminated;

(2) The infant or child is made a ward of the state; and

(3) The infant or child is immediately available for adoption.

3. A hospital that accepts custody of an infant or child pursuant to subsection 1 of this section shall ask the parent of the infant or child for pertinent medical information relating to the parent and the infant or child. That information includes, but is not limited to information concerning the use of controlled substances and the infant or child's birth date. If a parent provides the medical information requested by the hospital, the parent is immune from criminal liability for any act of commission or omission in connection with relinquishing custody of the infant or child to the hospital. If a parent does not provide the medical information, the division of family services is authorized to attempt to identify the parent or parents and obtain medical information and a birth date of the child.

4. A hospital that accepts custody of an infant or child pursuant to subsection 1 of this section is immune from civil, criminal, and administrative liability for any act of commission or omission in connection with the acceptance of that custody or the provision of care for the infant or child while it is in their custody.

Further amend said bill, Page 2, Section 191.975, Line 26, by striking the word "and"; and further amend line 27, by inserting immediately after the word "material" the following: ", and any other person or entity that requests such material"; and

Further amend said bill, Pages 2 to 5, Section 453.030, Lines 1 to 116, by striking all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"453.030. 1. In all cases the approval of the court of the adoption shall be required and such approval shall be given or withheld as the welfare of the person sought to be adopted may, in the opinion of the court, demand.

2. The written consent of the person to be adopted shall be required in all cases where the person sought to be adopted is fourteen years of age or older, except where the court finds that such child has not sufficient mental capacity to give the same.

3. With the exceptions specifically enumerated in section 453.040, when the person sought to be adopted is under the age of eighteen years, the written consent of the following persons shall be required and filed in and made a part of the files and record of the proceeding:

(1) The mother of the child; and

(2) Any man who:

(a) Is presumed to be the father pursuant to the subdivisions (1), (2), (3) or (5) of subsection 1 of section 210.822, RSMo; or

(b) Has filed an action to establish his paternity in a court of competent jurisdiction no later than fifteen days after the birth of the child; or

(c) Filed with the putative father registry pursuant to section 192.016, RSMo, a notice of intent to claim paternity or an acknowledgment of paternity either prior to or within fifteen days after the child's birth, and has filed an action to establish his paternity in a court of competent jurisdiction no later than fifteen days after the birth of the child. Such person shall be advised of the effect of his signature and the legal consequences thereof following the signature of the consent; or

(3) The child's current adoptive parents or other legally recognized mother and father. Upon request by the petitioner and within one business day of such request, the clerk of the local court shall verify whether such written consents have been filed with the court.

4. The written consent required in subdivisions (2) and (3) of subsection 3 of this section may be executed before or after the commencement of the adoption proceedings, and shall be acknowledged before a notary public. In lieu of such acknowledgment, the signature of the person giving such written consent shall be witnessed by the signatures of at least two adult persons whose signatures and addresses shall be plainly written thereon. The two adult witnesses shall not be the prospective adoptive parents or any attorney representing a party to the adoption proceeding. The notary public or witnesses shall verify the identity of the party signing the consent.

5. The written consent required in subdivision (1) of subsection 3 of this section by the birth parent shall not be executed anytime before the child is forty-eight hours old. Such written consent shall be executed in front of a judge or a notary public. In lieu of such acknowledgment, the signature of the person giving such written consent shall be witnessed by the signatures of at least two adult persons who are present at the execution whose signatures and addresses shall be plainly written thereon and who determine and certify that the consent is knowingly and freely given. The two adult witnesses shall not be the prospective adoptive parents or any attorney representing a party to the adoption proceeding. The notary public or witnesses shall verify the identity of the party signing the consent.

6. The written consents shall be reviewed and, if found to be in compliance with this section, approved by the court within three business days of such consents being presented to the court. The child may be placed in the pre-approved adoptive home immediately upon the signing of consents, and thereafter the court may proceed with approval of the consents. Upon review, in lieu of approving the consent within three business days, the court may set a date for a prompt evidentiary hearing upon notice to the parties. Failure to review and approve the written consent within three business days shall not void the consent, but a party may seek a writ of mandamus from the appropriate court, unless an evidentiary hearing has been set by the court pursuant to this subsection.

7. The written consent required in subsection 3 of this section may be withdrawn anytime until it has been reviewed and accepted by a judge.

8. A consent form shall be developed through rules and regulations promulgated by the department of social services. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated under the authority of this section shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo. If a written consent is obtained after August 28, 1997, but prior to the development of a consent form by the department and the written consent complies with the provisions of subsection 9 of this section, such written consent shall be deemed valid.

9. However, the consent form must specify that:

(1) The birth parent understands the importance of identifying all possible fathers of the child and shall provide the names of all such persons unless the mother has good cause as to why she should not name such persons. The court shall determine if good cause is justifiable. By signing the consent, the birth parent acknowledges that those having an interest in the child have been supplied with all available information to assist in locating all possible fathers; and

(2) The birth parent understands that if he denies paternity, but consents to the adoption, he waives any future interest in the child.

10. The written consent to adoption required by subsection 3 and executed through procedures set forth in subsection 5 of this section shall be valid and effective even though the parent consenting was under eighteen years of age, if such parent was represented by a guardian ad litem, at the time of the execution thereof.

11. Where the person sought to be adopted is eighteen years of age or older, his written consent alone to his adoption shall be sufficient.

12. A birth parent, including a birth parent less than eighteen years of age, shall have the right to legal representation and payment of any reasonable legal fees incurred throughout the adoption process. In addition, the court may appoint an attorney to represent a birth parent if:

(1) A birth parent requests representation;

(2) The court finds that hiring an attorney to represent such birth parent would cause a financial hardship for the birth parent; and

(3) The birth parent is not already represented by counsel.

13. Except in cases where the court determines that the adoptive parents are unable to pay reasonable attorney fees and appoints pro bono counsel for the birth parents, the court shall order the costs of the attorney fees incurred pursuant to subsection 12 of this section to be paid by the prospective adoptive parents or the child-placing agency."

Such procedures shall include, but not be limited to, necessary records identifying the quantities of hazardous waste registered, the form and submission of reports to accompany the payment of fees, the time and manner of payment of fees, which shall not be more often than quarterly.
2. Exempted from the requirements of this section are individual householders and farmers who generate only small quantities of hazardous waste and any person the commission determines generates only small quantities of hazardous waste on an infrequent basis, except that:

(1) Householders, farmers and exempted persons shall manage all hazardous wastes they may generate in a manner so as not to adversely affect the health of humans, or pose a threat to the environment, or create a public nuisance; and

(2) The department may determine that a specific quantity of a specific hazardous waste requires special management. Upon such determination and after public notice by press release or advertisement thereof, including instructions for handling and delivery, generators exempted [under] pursuant to this subsection shall deliver, but without a manifest or the requirement to use a licensed hazardous waste transporter, such waste to:

(a) Any storage, treatment or disposal site authorized to operate [under] pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430 or the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, or a state hazardous waste management program authorized [under] pursuant to the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act which the department designates for this purpose; or

(b) A collection station or vehicle which the department may arrange for and designate for this purpose.

All funds received from hazardous waste permit and license fees, generator fees, taxes collected by contract hazardous waste landfill operators, general revenue, federal funds, gifts, bequests, donations, or any other moneys so designated shall be paid to the director of revenue and deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the hazardous waste fund. The hazardous waste fund, subject to appropriation by the general assembly, shall be used by the department as provided by appropriations and consistent with rules and regulations established by the hazardous waste management commission for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of sections 260.350 to 260.430, [relating to] for the management of hazardous waste, [for cleanup of] responses to hazardous [waste] substance emergencies as provided in sections 260.500 to 260.550, corrective actions at regulated facilities and [abandoned or] illegal hazardous waste sites and for payments to other state agencies for such services consistent with sections 260.350 to 260.430, upon proper warrant issued by the commissioner of administration.

2. The unexpended balance in the hazardous waste fund at the end of each fiscal year shall not be transferred to the general revenue fund of the state treasurer, except as directed by the general assembly by appropriation, and shall be invested to generate income to the fund. The provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, relating to the transfer of funds to the general revenue fund of the state by the state treasurer shall not apply to the hazardous waste fund.

3. There is hereby created within the hazardous waste fund a subaccount known as the "Hazardous Waste Facility Inspection Subaccount". All funds received from hazardous waste facility inspection fees shall be paid to the director of revenue and deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the hazardous waste facility inspection subaccount. Moneys from such subaccount shall be used by the department for conducting inspections at facilities that are permitted or are required to be permitted as hazardous waste facilities by the department.

260.395. 1. After six months from the effective date of the standards, rules and regulations adopted by the commission pursuant to section 260.370, it shall be unlawful for any person to transport any hazardous waste in this state without first obtaining a hazardous waste transporter license. Any person transporting hazardous waste in this state shall file an application for a license [under] pursuant to this subsection which shall:

(1) Be submitted on a form provided for this purpose by the department and shall furnish the department with such equipment identification and data as may be necessary to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the department that equipment engaged in such transportation of hazardous waste, and other equipment as designated in rules and regulations [hereunder] pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430, is adequate to provide protection of the health of humans and the environment and to comply with the provisions of any federal hazardous waste management act and sections 260.350 to 260.430 and the standards, rules and regulations adopted [hereunder] pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430. If approved by the department, this demonstration of protection may be satisfied by providing certification that the equipment so identified meets and will be operated in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Missouri public service commission and the federal Department of Transportation for the transportation of the types of hazardous materials for which it will be used;

(2) Include, as specified by rules and regulations, demonstration of financial responsibility, including, but not limited to, guarantees, liability insurance, posting of bond or any combination thereof which shall be related to the number of units, types and sizes of equipment to be used in the transport of hazardous waste by the applicant;

(3) Include, as specified in rules and regulations, a fee payable to the state of Missouri which shall [be an amount to be determined by the number of vehicles and the gross weight of each vehicle to be covered by the license but shall not exceed one hundred dollars per vehicle to be covered by the license.] consist of an annual application fee, plus an annual use fee based upon tonnage, mileage or a combination of tonnage and mileage. The fees established pursuant to this subdivision shall be set to generate, as nearly as is practicable, six hundred thousand dollars annually. No fee shall be collected pursuant to this subdivision from railroads that pay a fee pursuant to subsection 19 of this section. Fees collected pursuant to this subdivision shall be deposited in the hazardous waste fund created pursuant to section 260.391.

2. If the department determines the application conforms to the provisions of any federal hazardous waste management act and sections 260.350 to 260.430 and the standards, rules and regulations adopted [hereunder] pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430, it shall issue the hazardous waste transporter license with such terms and conditions as it deems necessary to protect the health of humans and the environment. The department shall act within ninety days after receipt of the application. If the department denies the license, it shall issue a report to the applicant stating the reason for denial of the license.

3. A license may be suspended or revoked whenever the department determines that the equipment is or has been operated in violation of any provision of sections 260.350 to 260.430 or any standard, rule or regulation, order, or license term or condition adopted or issued [hereunder] pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430, poses a threat to the health of humans or the environment, or is creating a public nuisance.

4. Whenever a license is issued, renewed, denied, suspended or revoked by the department, any aggrieved person, by petition filed with the department within thirty days of the decision, may appeal such decision and shall be entitled to a hearing as provided in section 260.400.

5. A license shall be issued for a period of one year and shall be renewed upon proper application by the holder and a determination by the department that the applicant is in compliance with all provisions of sections 260.350 to 260.430 and all standards, rules and regulations, orders and license terms and conditions adopted or issued [hereunder] pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430.

6. A license is not required for the transport of any hazardous waste on the premises where it is generated or onto contiguous property owned by the generator thereof, or for those persons exempted in section 260.380. Nothing in this subsection shall be interpreted to preclude the department from inspecting unlicensed hazardous waste transporting equipment and to require that it be adequate to provide protection for the health of humans and the environment.

7. After six months from the effective date of the standards, rules and regulations adopted by the commission pursuant to section 260.370, it shall be unlawful for any person to construct, substantially alter or operate, including postclosure activities and operations specified in the rules and regulations, a hazardous waste facility without first obtaining a hazardous waste facility permit for such construction, alteration or operation from the department. Such person must submit to the department at least ninety days prior to submitting a permit application a letter of intent to construct, substantially alter or operate any hazardous waste disposal facility. The person must file an application within one hundred eighty days of the filing of a letter of intent unless granted an extension by the commission. The department shall publish such letter of intent as specified in section 493.050, RSMo, within ten days of receipt of such letter. The letter shall be published once each week for four weeks in the county where the hazardous waste disposal facility is proposed. Once such letter is submitted, all conditions for the permit application evaluation purposes in existence as of the date of submission shall be deemed frozen, in that no subsequent action by any person to change such conditions in an attempt to thwart a fair and impartial decision on the application for a permit shall be allowed as grounds for denial of the permit. Any person before constructing, substantially altering or operating a hazardous waste facility in this state shall file an application for a permit which shall:

(1) Be submitted on a form provided for this purpose by the department and shall furnish the department with plans, specifications and such other data as may be necessary to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the department that such facility does or will provide adequate protection of the health of humans and the environment and does or will comply with the provisions of any federal hazardous waste management act and sections 260.350 to 260.430 and the standards, rules and regulations adopted [hereunder] pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430;

(2) Include plans, designs, engineering reports and relevant data for construction, alteration or operation of a hazardous waste facility, to be submitted to the department by a registered professional engineer licensed by this state;

(3) Include, as specified by rules and regulations, demonstration of financial responsibility, including, but not limited to, guarantees, liability insurance, posting of bond or any combination thereof, which shall be related to type and size of facility;

(4) Include such environmental and geologic information, assessments and studies as required by the rules and regulations of the commission;

(5) Submit with the application for a hazardous waste disposal or treatment facility a profile of the environmental and economic characteristics of the area as required by the commission, including the extent of air pollution and groundwater contamination; and a profile of the health characteristics of the area which identifies all serious illness, the rate of which exceeds the state average for such illness, which might be attributable to environmental contamination;

(6) Include a fee payable to the state of Missouri which shall not exceed one thousand dollars, which shall cover the first year of the permit, if issued, but which is not refundable. If the permit is issued for more than one year, a fee equal in amount to the first year's fee shall be paid to the state of Missouri prior to issuance of the permit for each year the permit is to be in effect beyond the first year;

(7) The department shall supervise any field work undertaken to collect geologic and engineering data for submission with the application. The state geologist and departmental engineers shall review the geologic and engineering plans, respectively, and attest to their accuracy and adequacy. The applicant shall pay all reasonable costs, as determined by the commission, incurred by the department [under] pursuant to this subsection.

8. (1) Prior to issuing or renewing a hazardous waste facility permit, the department shall issue public notice by press release or advertisement and shall notify all record owners of adjoining property by mail directed to the last known address, and the village, town or city, if any, and the county in which the hazardous waste facility is located; and, upon request, shall hold a public hearing after public notice as required in this subsection at a location convenient to the area affected by the issuance of the permit.

(2) Prior to issuing, reviewing every five years as required in subsection 12 of this section, or renewing a hazardous waste disposal facility permit the department shall issue public notice by press release and advertisement and shall notify all record owners of property, within one mile of the outer boundaries of the site, by mail directed to the last known address; and shall hold a public hearing after public notice as required in this subsection at a location convenient to the area affected by the issuance of the permit.

9. If the department determines that the application conforms to the provisions of any federal hazardous waste management act and sections 260.350 to 260.430 and the standards, rules and regulations adopted [hereunder] pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430, it shall issue the hazardous waste facility permit, with such terms and conditions and require such testing and construction supervision as it deems necessary to protect the health of humans or the environment. The department shall act within one hundred and eighty days after receipt of the application. If the department denies the permit, it shall issue a report to the applicant stating the reason for denial of a permit.

10. A permit may be suspended or revoked whenever the department determines that the hazardous waste facility is, or has been, operated in violation of any provision of sections 260.350 to 260.430 or any standard, rule or regulation, order or permit term or condition adopted or issued [hereunder] pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430, poses a threat to the health of humans or the environment or is creating a public nuisance.

11. Whenever a permit is issued, renewed, denied, suspended or revoked by the department, any aggrieved person, by petition filed with the department within thirty days of the decision, may appeal such decision and shall be entitled to a hearing as provided in section 260.400.

12. A permit shall be issued for a fixed term, which shall not exceed ten years in the case of any land disposal facility, storage facility, incinerator, or other treatment facility. Each permit for a land disposal facility shall be reviewed five years after the date of its issuance or reissuance and shall be modified as necessary to assure that the facility continues to comply with the currently applicable requirements of federal and state law. Nothing in this subsection shall preclude the department from reviewing and modifying a permit at any time during its term. Review of any application for a permit renewal shall consider improvements in the state of control and measurement technology as well as changes in applicable regulations. Each permit issued [under] pursuant to this section shall contain such terms and conditions as the department determines necessary to protect human health and the environment, and upon proper application by the holder and a determination by the department that the applicant is in compliance with all provisions of sections 260.350 to 260.430 and all standards, rules and regulations, orders and permit terms and conditions adopted or issued [hereunder] pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430.

13. A hazardous waste facility permit is not required for:

- (1) On-site storage of hazardous wastes where such storage is exempted by the commission by rule or regulation; however, such storage must conform to the provisions of any federal hazardous waste management act and sections 260.350 to 260.430 and the applicable standards, rules and regulations adopted [hereunder] pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430 and any other applicable hazardous materials storage and spill prevention requirements provided by law;
- (2) A publicly owned treatment works which has an operating permit [under] pursuant to section 644.051, RSMo, and is in compliance with that permit;
- (3) A resource recovery facility which the department certifies uses hazardous waste as a supplement to, or substitute for, nonwaste material, and that the sole purpose of the facility is manufacture of a product rather than treatment or disposal of hazardous wastes;
- (4) That portion of a facility engaged in hazardous waste resource recovery, when the facility is engaged in both resource recovery and hazardous waste treatment or disposal, provided the owner or operator can demonstrate to the department's satisfaction and the department finds that such portion is not intended and is not used for hazardous waste treatment or disposal.

14. Facilities exempted [under] pursuant to subsection 13 of this section must comply with the provisions of subdivisions (3) to (7) of section 260.390 and such other requirements, to be specified by rules and regulations, as are necessary to comply with any federal hazardous waste management act or regulations hereunder. Generators who use such an exempted facility shall keep records of hazardous wastes transported, except by legal flow through sewer lines, to the facility and submit such records to the department in accordance with the provisions of section 260.380 and the standards, rules and regulations adopted [hereunder.] pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430. Any person, before constructing, altering or operating a resource recovery facility in this state shall file an application for a certification. Such application shall include:

- (1) Plans, designs, engineering reports and other relevant information as specified by rule that demonstrate that the facility is designed and will operate in a manner protective of human health and the environment; and
- (2) An application fee of not more than five hundred dollars for a facility that recovers waste generated at the same facility or an application fee of not more than one thousand dollars for a facility that recovers waste generated at off-site sources. Such fees shall be deposited in the hazardous waste fund created in section 260.391.

The department shall review such application for conformance with applicable laws, rules and standard engineering principles and practices. The applicant shall pay to the department all reasonable costs, as determined by the commission, incurred by the department pursuant to this subsection. All such funds shall be deposited in the hazardous waste fund created in section 260.391.

15. The owner or operator of any hazardous waste facility in existence on September 28, 1977, who has achieved federal interim status [under] pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 6925(e), and who has submitted to the department Part A of the federal facility permit application, may continue to receive and manage hazardous wastes in the manner as specified in the Part A application, and in accordance with federal interim status requirements, until completion of the administrative disposition of a permit application submitted pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430. The department may at any time require submission of, or the owner or operator may at any time voluntarily submit, a complete application for a permit pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430 and commission regulations. The authority to operate [under] pursuant to this subsection shall cease one hundred eighty days after the department has notified an owner or operator that an application for permit pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430 must be submitted, unless within such time the owner or operator submits a completed application therefor. Upon submission of a complete application, the authority to operate [under] pursuant to this subsection shall continue for such reasonable time as is required to complete the administrative disposition of the permit application. If a facility loses its federal interim status, or the Environmental Protection Agency requires the owner or operator to submit Part B of the federal application, the department shall notify the owner or operator that an application for a permit must be submitted pursuant to this subsection. In addition to compliance with the federal interim status requirements, the commission shall have the authority to adopt regulations requiring persons operating [under the authority of] pursuant to this subsection to meet additional state interim status requirements.

16. A license or permit shall not be issued to any person who is determined by the department to habitually engage in or to have habitually engaged in hazardous waste management practices which pose a threat to the health of humans or the environment or who is determined by the department to habitually violate or to have habitually violated the requirements of the Missouri solid or hazardous waste laws, the solid or hazardous waste laws of other states or federal laws pertaining to hazardous waste. Nor shall a license or permit be issued to any person who has been adjudged in contempt of any court order enforcing the provisions of the Missouri solid or hazardous waste laws, the solid or hazardous waste laws of other states or federal laws pertaining to hazardous waste or who has offered, in person or through an agent, any inducement, including any discussion of potential employment opportunities, to any employee of the department when such person has an application for a permit pending or a permit under review. 18. All hazardous waste landfills constructed after October 31, 1980, shall have a leachate collection system. The rules and regulations of the commission shall treat and protect all aquifers to the same level of protection. No fee shall be imposed upon any hazardous waste generator who registers less than ten tons of hazardous waste annually pursuant to section 260.380, or upon:

- (1) Hazardous waste which must be disposed of as provided by a remedial plan for an abandoned or uncontrolled hazardous waste site;
- (2) Fly ash waste, bottom ash waste, slag waste and flue gas emission control waste generated primarily from the combustion of coal or other fossil fuels;

3. Thirty percent of all moneys collected or received by the department [under] pursuant to this section shall be transmitted to the department of revenue for deposit in the state treasury to the credit of the hazardous waste remedial fund created in section 260.480. Seventy percent of all moneys collected or received by the department pursuant to this section shall be transmitted to the department of revenue for deposit in the state treasury to the credit of the hazardous waste fund created pursuant to section 260.391. Following each annual reporting date, the state treasurer shall certify the amount deposited in the fund to the commission.

4. If any generator or transporter fails or refuses to pay the fees imposed by this section, or fails or refuses to furnish any information reasonably requested by the department relating to such fees, there shall be imposed, in addition to the fee determined to be owed, a penalty of fifteen percent of the fee, thirty percent of which shall be deposited in the hazardous waste remedial fund, and seventy percent of which shall be deposited in the hazardous waste fund.

5. If the fees or any portion of the fees imposed by this section are not paid by the date prescribed for such payment, there shall be imposed interest upon the unpaid amount at the rate of ten percent per annum from the date prescribed for its payment until payment is actually made, thirty percent of which shall be deposited in the hazardous waste remedial fund, and seventy percent of which shall be deposited in the hazardous waste fund.

6. The state treasurer is authorized to deposit all of the moneys in the hazardous waste remedial fund in any of the qualified depositories of the state. All such deposits shall be secured in such a manner and shall be made upon such terms and conditions as are now or may hereafter be provided for by law relative to state deposits. Interest received on such deposits shall be credited to the hazardous waste remedial fund.

7. No fee shall be collected [under] pursuant to this section after January 1, [2004] 2005.

260.479. 1. The hazardous waste management commission shall establish, by rule, five categories of hazardous waste based on the tonnage produced annually by individual generators and each category shall be further divided into subdivisions based upon the management method. Subdivision A shall include waste which is placed in a hazardous waste disposal facility or which is stored for a period of more than one hundred eighty days; provided, however, for the purposes of this section, the commission may identify hazardous waste which shall be taxed [under] pursuant to subdivision A when stored for longer than ninety days as well as waste which may be stored for up to one year and taxed as provided in subdivision B below. Subdivision B shall include all other hazardous waste produced. Category 1 shall contain the range of greatest production and category 5 the range of least production with categories 2, 3 and 4 containing those ranges of waste production in between 1 and 5. The commission shall review the categories and establish such categories that will, as near as practical, generate approximately [one] two and [one-half] eight-tenths million dollars annually for the first fiscal year fees are assessed pursuant to this section, and such revenue target shall be adjusted annually thereafter by the same percentage as the change in the general price level as measured by the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers for the United States, or its successor index, as defined and officially recorded by the United States Department of Labor or its successor agency. The director shall annually request that [an amount] one million dollars be appropriated from general revenue [or federal] funds [which is at least equal to one-third the amount levied against hazardous waste generators pursuant to this section] for deposit in the hazardous waste remedial fund created pursuant to section 260.480.

2. Except as provided in this subsection, based on the categories established pursuant to this section, each hazardous waste generator registered with the department of natural resources, except the state and any political subdivision thereof, shall pay a fee based on the volume of waste produced in each of the five categories and managed [under] pursuant to subdivisions A and B as follows:

Category Subdivision A Subdivision B

2 $30,000 $15,000

3 $20,000 $10,000

4 $10,000 $ 5,000

5 $ 1,000 $ 500

Category 1 limitations established pursuant to this subsection shall be adjusted annually by the same percentage as the change in the general price level as measured by the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers for the United States, or its successor index, as defined and officially recorded by the United States Department of Labor or its successor agency. No company shall pay more than [fifty] eighty thousand dollars annually [under the provisions of] pursuant to this section[.] ; provided that such maximum amount shall be adjusted annually by the same percentage as the change in the general price level as measured by the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers for the United States, or its successor index, as defined and officially recorded by the United States Department of Labor or its successor agency. No individual generator subject to a fee pursuant to this section shall pay less than fifty dollars annually.

3. No tax shall be imposed [under] pursuant to this section upon hazardous waste generators whose waste consists solely of waste oil or facilities licensed [under] pursuant to chapter 197, RSMo. The commission may exempt intermittent generators or generators of very small volumes of hazardous waste from payment of fees required [under] pursuant to this section, provided those generators comply with all other applicable provisions of sections 260.360 to 260.430.

4. Any hazardous waste generator registered with the department which discharges waste to a publicly owned treatment works having an approved pretreatment program as required by chapter 204, RSMo, shall not pay any fee required in sections 260.350 to 260.550 on such waste discharged which is in compliance with pretreatment requirements. The hazardous waste management commission may exempt such generators from the provisions of sections 260.350 to 260.430 if such exemption will not be in violation of the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act.

5. No fee shall be imposed [under] pursuant to this section [upon any hazardous waste fuel which is produced from hazardous waste by processing, blending or other treatment and which fuel is generated after June 30, 1987, or] upon any hazardous waste which must be disposed of as provided by a remedial plan for an abandoned or uncontrolled hazardous waste site, or upon smelter slag waste from the processing of materials into reclaimed metals. Fees on hazardous waste fuel produced from hazardous waste by processing, blending or other treatment shall be assessed and collected only at the facility where such hazardous waste fuel is utilized as a substitute for other fuel. No facility using hazardous waste fuel shall pay more than eighty thousand dollars annually pursuant to this subsection for the first fiscal year fees are assessed pursuant to this section, and such maximum amount shall be adjusted annually thereafter by the same percentage as the change in the general price level as measured by the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers for the United States, or its successor index, as defined and officially recorded by the United States Department of Labor or its successor agency. This subsection shall not be construed to apply to hazardous waste used directly as a fuel.

6. The department may establish by rule and regulation categories of waste based upon waste characteristics pursuant to subsection 2 of section 260.370. When the commission adopts hazardous waste categories, it shall establish and annually revise a fee schedule based upon waste characteristics. Each generator shall annually pay a fee, in lieu of the fee required in subsection 2 of this section, based upon the volume of waste produced annually within each hazard category.

7. All fees within this section shall be based on hazardous waste produced within the preceding state fiscal year beginning with July first of the year this section goes into effect and payable at the end of the calendar year on December thirty-first and annually thereafter in the same manner.

8. The department shall promptly transmit fifty-five percent of all funds collected [under] pursuant to this section to the director of revenue for deposit in the hazardous waste remedial fund created pursuant to section 260.480. The department shall promptly transmit forty-five percent of all funds collected pursuant to this section to the director of revenue for deposit in the hazardous waste fund created pursuant to section 260.391.

9. [This section shall become effective on January 1, 1987, or at such time that annual receipts to the hazardous waste remedial fund as established in section 260.480 are less than one million five hundred thousand dollars, whichever first occurs. The provisions of subsection 4 of section 260.478,] Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, no tax based on the number of employees employed by a hazardous waste generator shall be collected [after January 1, 1987]. No tax or fee shall be levied pursuant to this section after January 1, [2004] 2005.

260.480. 1. There is hereby created within the state treasury a fund to be known as the "Hazardous Waste Remedial Fund". All moneys received from fees, penalties, general revenue, federal funds, gifts, bequests, donations, or any other moneys so designated shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of such fund, and shall be invested to generate income to the fund. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, the unexpended balance in the hazardous waste remedial fund at the end of each fiscal year shall not be transferred to the general revenue fund except as directed by the general assembly by appropriation to replace funds appropriated from the general revenue fund for the purposes for which expenditures from the hazardous waste remedial fund are allowed.

2. The department may use the fund, upon appropriation, for the nonfederal share and any other expenditures which are not covered [under] pursuant to the federal Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980, for the following purposes:

(2) Payments to other state agencies for such services consistent with sections 260.435 to 260.550, upon proper warrant issued by the commissioner of administration, including, but not limited to, the department of health for the purpose of conducting health studies of persons exposed to waste from an uncontrolled or abandoned hazardous waste site or exposed to the release of any hazardous substance as defined in section 260.500;

(3) Acquisition of property as provided in section 260.420;

(4) [Emergency response activities as provided in sections 260.500 to 260.550;

[(7)] (6) Reimbursement of owners or operators who accept waste pursuant to departmental orders [under] pursuant to subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of section 260.420.

3. Neither the state of Missouri nor its officers, employees or agents shall be liable for any injury caused by a dangerous condition at any abandoned or uncontrolled site unless such condition is the result of an act or omission constituting gross negligence on the part of the state, its officers, employees or agents.

4. The department may contract with any person to perform the acts authorized in this section.

5. No moneys shall be available from the fund for abandoned site cleanup unless the director has made all reasonable efforts to secure voluntary agreement to pay the costs of necessary remedial actions from owners or operators of abandoned or uncontrolled hazardous waste sites or other responsible persons.

6. The director shall make all reasonable efforts to recover the full amount of any funds expended from the fund through litigation or cooperative agreements with responsible persons. All moneys recovered or reimbursed pursuant to this section through voluntary agreements or court orders shall be deposited with the state treasurer and credited to the account of the hazardous waste remedial fund.

260.535. Moneys received pursuant to the provisions of sections 260.500 to 260.550 which are not required by article IX, section 7 of the constitution to be distributed to schools shall be deposited in the hazardous waste [remedial] fund created in section 260.391 and shall, upon appropriation, be used for control, abatement, analysis, cleanup, investigation and other reasonable costs incurred when responding to hazardous substance emergencies, or shall be used to reimburse the federal government for federal funds expended for the purposes named in this section. All other costs of the department necessary to carry out the provisions of sections 260.500 to 260.550 shall be paid from the hazardous waste fund, appropriated from general revenue or paid from available federal funds.

260.546. 1. In the event that a hazardous substance release occurs for which a political subdivision or volunteer fire protection association as defined in section 320.300, RSMo, provides emergency services, the person having control over a hazardous substance shall be liable for such reasonable cleanup costs incurred by the political subdivision or volunteer fire protection association. Such liability includes the cost of materials, supplies and contractual services actually used to secure an emergency situation. The liability may also include the cost for contractual services which are not routinely provided by the department or political subdivision or volunteer fire protection association. Such liability shall not include the cost of normal services which otherwise would have been provided. Such liability shall not include budgeted administrative costs or the costs for duplicate services if multiple response teams are requested by the department or political subdivision unless, in the opinion of the department or political subdivision, duplication of service was required to protect the public health and environment. Such liability shall be established upon receipt by the person having control of the spilled hazardous substance of an itemized statement of costs provided by the political subdivision.

2. Full payment shall be made within thirty days of receipt of the cost statement unless the person having control over the hazardous substance contests the amount of the costs pursuant to this section. If the person having control over the hazardous substance elects to contest the payment of such costs, he shall file an appeal with the director within thirty days of receipt of the cost statement.

3. Upon receipt of such an appeal, the director shall notify the parties involved of the appeal and collect such evidence from the parties involved as he deems necessary to make a determination of reasonable cleanup costs. Within thirty days of notification of the appeal, the director shall notify the parties of his decision. The director shall direct the person having control over a hazardous substance to pay those costs he finds to be reasonable and appropriate. The determination of the director shall become final thirty days after receipt of the notice by the parties involved unless prior to such date one of the involved parties files a petition for judicial review pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo.

4. The political subdivision or volunteer fire protection association may apply to the department for reimbursement from the hazardous waste [remedial] fund created in section [260.535] 260.391, for the costs for which the person having control over a hazardous substance shall be liable if the political subdivision or volunteer fire protection association is able to demonstrate a need for immediate relief for such costs and believes it will not receive prompt payment from the person having control over a hazardous substance. When the liability owed to the political subdivision or volunteer fire protection association by the person having control over a hazardous substance is paid, the political subdivision or volunteer fire protection association shall reimburse the department for any payment it has received from the hazardous waste remedial fund. Such reimbursement to a political subdivision or volunteer fire protection association by the department shall be paid back to the department by the political subdivision or volunteer fire protection association within that time limit imposed by the department notwithstanding failure of the person having control over a hazardous substance to reimburse the political subdivision or volunteer fire protection association within that time.

260.569. 1. The department shall be reimbursed for its site-specific costs incurred in administration and oversight of the voluntary cleanup. The department shall bill applicants who conduct the voluntary cleanup at rates established by rule by the hazardous waste management commission. Such rates shall not be more than the lesser of the costs to the department or one hundred dollars per hour. The department shall furnish to the applicant a complete, full and detailed accounting of the costs incurred by the department for which the applicant is charged. The applicant may appeal any charge to the commission within thirty days of receipt of the bill. Appeal to the commission shall stay the required payment date until thirty days following the rendering of the decision of the commission. The department of natural resources shall initially draw down its charges against the application fee. Timely remittance of reimbursements, as provided in subsection 3 of this section, to the department is a condition of continuing participation. If, after the conclusion of the remedial action, a balance remains, the department shall refund that amount within sixty days. If the department fails to render any decision or take any action within the time period specified in sections 260.565 to 260.575, then the applicant shall not be required to reimburse the department for costs incurred for such review or action.

2. All funds remitted by the applicant conducting the voluntary cleanup shall be deposited into the hazardous waste remedial fund created in section 260.480 and shall be used by the department upon appropriation for its administrative and oversight costs.

3. The department may terminate an applicant from further participation for cause. Grounds for termination include, but are not limited to:

(2) Failure to submit cost reimbursements within sixty days following notice from the department that such reimbursements are due;

(3) Failure to submit required information within ninety days following notice from the department that such information is required;

(4) Failure to submit a remedial action plan within ninety days following notice from the department that such plan is due;

(5) Failure to properly implement the remedial action plan; and

(6) Continuing noncompliance with any of the provisions of sections 260.565 to 260.575 or the rules and regulations promulgated [thereunder] pursuant to sections 260.565 to 260.575.

4. Upon termination pursuant to subdivision (1) of subsection 3 of this section or subsection 11 of section 260.567, if there is a balance in the applicant's application fee after deducting costs incurred by the department of natural resources, such balance shall be refunded within sixty days. Upon termination pursuant to subdivisions (2) to (6) of subsection 3 of this section, if a balance remains in the applicant's application fee, such balance shall be forfeited and deposited in the hazardous waste remedial fund."; and Gracious God, our lives are planted in You and there we have found a source of nourishment which sustains us from day to day. Our lives are rooted deeply and firmly in Your promises which provide strength, assurance and final victory. And like a tree planted near a river we desire to bring forth fruits of our efforts here in the Senate. We pray that the product of our efforts will not wither but aid the people of Missouri. A fee may be charged which shall be paid directly by the individual participant, but the fee shall be equal for all participants. If a subscription fee is charged by the originator of the program, the district or institution may pay the subscription fee for all participants from the grant pursuant to this section or from any other public or private fund legally authorized to be used for this purpose. Such local exchange telecommunications companies shall seek commission authorization to provide local service at rates lower than those charged for business and residential service in effect when the tariff is filed, provided that the proposed rates may not be below the actual cost of providing the service. Upon approval of the public service commission, the rates shall not be classified as discriminatory for the purposes of chapter 392, RSMo.

REMONSTRANCES

Senator Ehlmann offered the following remonstrance, which was referred to the Committee on Rules, Joint Rules and Resolutions:

SENATE REMONSTRANCE NO. 4

WHEREAS, methyl tertiary butyl ether (MTBE), the most popular oxygen fuel additive, has been shown to cause risk to the nation's drinking water supply; and

WHEREAS, reformulated motor fuel most often achieves the federal requirement for "oxygenated" components through inclusion of a substantial increase in the amount of methyl tertiary-butyl ether or MTBE; and

WHEREAS, motor fuels are often leaked into the ground surrounding a fuel station by leakage from underground storage tanks or splashing losses; and

WHEREAS, MTBE is more water-soluble than components in conventional gasoline and is transported much more readily into aquifers used for drinking water supplies; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly lifted the ban on reformulated gasoline in 1998 and thus gave Governor Mel Carnahan the discretion to require reformulated gasoline in Missouri; and

WHEREAS, Governor Mel Carnahan sent a letter of notification to the Administrator of the United State Environmental Protection Agency in 1998 to "opt" Missouri into the federal reformulated gasoline program for the St. Louis low-level ozone nonattainment area beginning in the warm weather season for 1999; and

WHEREAS, MTBE has been used in reformulated motor fuel required throughout the St. Louis non-attainment area during the warm weather season beginning in 1999; and

WHEREAS, MTBE has been shown to be a possible human carcinogen which renders drinking water foul and unusable by humans and obscures its benefit of improving air quality; and

WHEREAS, the continued use of reformulated gasoline with MTBE could cause significant and long-lasting contamination of St. Louis area soils and drinking water supplies; and

WHEREAS, this threat to public health and the environment constitutes an emergency situation requiring immediate emergency action by the Governor as the supreme executive official of the state; and

WHEREAS, confronted with a similar situation, the Governor of California issued an executive order calling for "removal of MTBE from gasoline at the earliest possible date"; and

WHEREAS, Congress has recently introduced legislation to ban the use of MTBE but would allow the harmful polluting to continue for three years; and

WHEREAS, should any private citizen pollute the groundwater of this state, the Department of Natural Resources of this administration would demand and require immediate cessation of said polluting activity; and

WHEREAS, the United States Environmental Protection Agency revised its regulations to end the use of MTBE as a part of reformulated gasoline but has also allowed the harmful pollution to continue; and

WHEREAS, all the Governor of the state of Missouri has done regarding this crisis is to write a letter to Carol Browner, head of the Environmental Protection Agency, to come up with a "national solution" and expressing individual states "will devise different solutions that may not be protective":

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby join in remonstrating against Governor Mel Carnahan for opting the state into participation in this potentially harmful and hazardous reformulated gasoline program; and expressing the view that the Federal Government is better able to protect the citizens of Missouri than their state government; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Governor should issue an executive order calling for the removal of MTBE from gasoline at the earliest possible date; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the Governor and each member of Missouri's Congressional delegation and the Administrator of the United States Environmental Protection Agency and the Director of the Department of Natural Resources.

Help us never to underestimate the little things of life; for You, Oh Lord, use little things to confound the wise. Help us, we pray, to be faithful to the little things of life, for they wield tremendous power. ## SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FORTY-NINTH DAY--TUESDAY, APRIL 4, 2000

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Pro Tem Quick in the Chair.

The Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

"God has not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." (2 Timothy 1:7)

O God, King of the Universe, help us to see that there is nothing mutually exclusive about using our hearts and using our heads. We know that there have been times we have thrown good judgment to the winds - all in the name of what we have chosen to call heavenly love. Help us to strive for a balance between boldness and love - between power and wise discretion. Help us to demonstrate the "sanity of saintliness" and let not our heads, our hearts nor our hands offend against You or Your people. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 9

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 678 and 742, Page 54, Section 550.120, Line 19 from the top of the page, by inserting immediately at the end of said line the following:

"565.030. 1. Where murder in the first degree is charged but not submitted or where the state waives the death penalty, the submission to the trier and all subsequent proceedings in the case shall proceed as in all other criminal cases with a single stage trial in which guilt and punishment are submitted together.

2. Where murder in the first degree is submitted to the trier without a waiver of the death penalty, the trial shall proceed in two stages before the same trier. At the first stage the trier shall decide only whether the defendant is guilty or not guilty of any submitted offense. The issue of punishment shall not be submitted to the trier at the first stage. If an offense is charged other than murder in the first degree in a count together with a count of murder in the first degree, the trial judge shall assess punishment on any such offense according to law, after the defendant is found guilty of such offense and after he finds the defendant to be a prior offender pursuant to chapter 558, RSMo.

3. If murder in the first degree is submitted and the death penalty was not waived but the trier finds the defendant guilty of a lesser homicide, a second stage of the trial shall proceed at which the only issue shall be the punishment to be assessed and declared. No further evidence shall be received. If the trier is a jury it shall be instructed on the law. The attorneys may then argue as in other criminal cases the issue of punishment, after which the trier shall assess and declare the punishment as in all other criminal cases.

4. If the trier at the first stage of a trial where the death penalty was not waived finds the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree, a second stage of the trial shall proceed at which the only issue shall be the punishment to be assessed and declared. Evidence in aggravation and mitigation of punishment, including but not limited to evidence supporting any of the aggravating or mitigating circumstances listed in subsection 2 or 3 of section 565.032, may be presented subject to the rules of evidence at criminal trials. Such evidence may include, within the discretion of the court, evidence concerning the murder victim and the impact of the crime upon the family of the victim and others. Rebuttal and surrebuttal evidence may be presented. The state shall be the first to proceed. If the trier is a jury it shall be instructed on the law. The attorneys may then argue the issue of punishment to the jury, and the state shall have the right to open and close the argument. The trier shall assess and declare the punishment at life imprisonment without eligibility for probation, parole, or release except by act of the governor:

(1) If the trier finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant is mentally retarded; or

[~~(1)~~] (2) If the trier does not find beyond a reasonable doubt at least one of the statutory aggravating circumstances set out in subsection 2 of section 565.032; or

[~~(2)~~ If the trier does not find that the evidence in aggravation of punishment, including but not limited to evidence supporting the statutory aggravating circumstances listed in subsection 2 of section 565.032, warrants imposing the death sentence; or]

(3) If the trier concludes that there is evidence in mitigation of punishment, including but not limited to evidence supporting the statutory mitigating circumstances listed in subsection 3 of section 565.032, which is sufficient to outweigh the evidence in aggravation of punishment found by the trier; or

(4) If the trier decides under all of the circumstances not to assess and declare the punishment at death. If the trier is a jury it shall be so instructed. If the trier assesses and declares the punishment at death it shall, in its findings or verdict, set out in writing the aggravating circumstance or circumstances listed in subsection 2 of section 565.032 which it found beyond a reasonable doubt. If the trier is a jury it shall be instructed before the case is submitted that if it is unable to decide or agree upon the punishment the court shall assess and declare the punishment at life imprisonment without eligibility for probation, parole, or release except by act of the governor or death. The court shall follow the same procedure as set out in this section whenever it is required to determine punishment for murder in the first degree.

5. Upon written agreement of the parties and with leave of court, the issue of the defendant's mental retardation may be taken up by the court and decided prior to trial without prejudicing the defendant's right to have this issue submitted to the tier of fact as provided in subsection 4 of this section.

6. As used in this section, the terms mental retardation or mentally retarded refer to a condition involving substantial limitations in general functioning characterized by significantly subaverage intellectual functioning with related deficits and limitations in adaptive behavior such as communication, self-care, home living, social skills, community use, self-direction, health and safety, functional academics, leisure and work, which condition is manifested and documented before eighteen years of age.

7. The provisions of this section shall govern offenses committed on or after August 28, 2000."; and

But upon the filing of such petition, a restricted driving privilege for the limited purpose of driving in connection with the petitioner's business, occupation, employment, or formal program of secondary, postsecondary or higher education shall be issued by the department if the person's driving record shows no prior alcohol related enforcement contact during the immediately preceding five years. Such limited driving privilege shall terminate on the date of the disposition of the petition for trial de novo.

3. In addition to the limited driving privilege as permitted in subsection 2 of this section, the department may upon the filing of a petition for trial de novo issue a restricted driving privilege for the limited purpose of driving in connection with the petitioner's business, occupation, employment, or formal program of secondary, postsecondary or higher education. In determining whether to issue such a restrictive driving privilege, the department shall consider the number and the seriousness of prior convictions and the entire driving record of the driver.

4. Such time of restricted driving privilege pending disposition of trial de novo shall be counted toward any time of restricted driving privilege imposed pursuant to section 302.525. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prevent a person from maintaining his restricted driving privilege for an additional sixty days in order to meet the conditions imposed by section 302.540 for reinstating a person's driver's license."; and

Each judge shall devote approximately one-third of his working time to the performance of his duties as a traffic judge. Traffic judges shall not accept or handle cases in their practice of law which are inconsistent with their duties as a traffic judge and shall not be a judge or prosecutor for any other court. Traffic judges shall not be considered state employees and shall not be members of the state employees' or judicial retirement system or be eligible to receive any other employment benefit accorded state employees or judges.

6. Proceedings in the traffic court, except when a judge is acting as a commissioner pursuant to this section, shall be conducted as provided in supreme court rule 37. The hearing shall be before a traffic judge without jury, and the judge shall assume an affirmative duty to determine the merits of the evidence presented and the defenses of the defendant and may question parties and witnesses. No term of imprisonment or confinement may be assessed by a traffic judge. In the event a jury trial is requested, the cause shall be certified to the circuit court for trial by jury as otherwise provided by law. Clerks and computer personnel shall be assigned as needed for the efficient operation of the court.

8. Operating procedures shall be provided for electronic recording of proceedings, except that if adequate recording equipment is not provided at county expense, then, in that event, a person aggrieved by a judgment of a traffic judge or commissioner shall have the right of a trial de novo. The procedures for perfecting the right of a trial de novo shall be the same as that provided under sections 512.180 to 512.320, RSMo, except that the provisions of subsection 2 of section 512.180, RSMo, shall not apply to such cases.

9. The circuit court shall only have the authority to appoint two commissioners with the jurisdiction provided in subsection 3 of this section.

Heavenly Father, we place our entire confidence in You ending this week knowing we have tried to be faithful to You and that all we have done, even our failures, are in Your gracious, forgiving hands. We commit ourselves to You for You have told us that today, as yesterday, is a day of mercy and of grace. We pray for Don Rackers as he faces surgery, and ask for Your healing power to quickly bring him health and wholeness. Heavenly Father, we know the cycles of life and the endless vexations in our work here and among our people. But we also know that such tribulations help us grow in Godly patience and we are better able to endure what comes our way and because of it we experience hope for a better future because of Your grace given to us. 2. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 1 of this section or any other provision of law, the state board of education shall make an adjustment for the immediately preceding year for any increase in the actual number of eligible pupils above the number on which the state aid in section 163.031 was calculated. Said adjustment shall be made in the manner providing for correction of errors under subsection 1 of this section.

A district shall give prior notice to the department of its intention to use the current year's assessed valuation pursuant to this subsection. Any error made in the apportionment of state aid because of a difference between the actual equalized assessed valuation for the current year and the estimated equalized assessed valuation for the current year shall be corrected as provided in section 163.091, except that if the amount paid to a district estimating current equalized assessed valuation exceeds the amount to which the district was actually entitled, interest at the rate of six percent shall be charged on the excess and shall be added to the amount to be deducted from the district's apportionment the next succeeding year.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 720, Page 1, Section A, Line 3 of said page, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"149.015. 1. A tax shall be levied upon the sale of cigarettes at an amount equal to eight and one-half mills per cigarette, until such time as the general assembly appropriates an amount equal to twenty-five percent of the net federal reimbursement allowance to the health initiatives fund, then the tax shall be six and one-half mills per cigarette beginning July first of the fiscal year immediately after such appropriation. As used in this section, "net federal reimbursement allowance" shall mean that amount of the federal reimbursement allowance in excess of the amount of state matching funds necessary for the state to make payments required by subsection 1 of section 208.471, RSMo, or, if the payments exceed the amount so required, the actual payments made for the purposes specified in subsection 1 of section 208.471, RSMo.

2. The tax shall be evidenced by stamps which shall be furnished by and purchased from the director or by an impression of the tax by the use of a metering machine when authorized by the director as provided in this chapter, and the stamps or impression shall be securely affixed to one end of each package in which cigarettes are contained. All cigarettes must be stamped before being sold in this state.

3. Cigarette tax stamps shall be purchased only from the director. All stamps shall be purchased by the director in proper denominations, shall contain such appropriate wording as the director may prescribe, and shall be of such design, character, color combinations, color changes, sizes and material as the director may, by his rules and regulations, determine to afford the greatest security to the state. It shall be the duty of the director to manufacture or contract for revenue stamps required by this chapter; provided that if the stamps are contracted for, the manufacturer thereof shall be within the jurisdiction of the criminal and civil courts of this state, unless the stamps cannot be obtained in this state at a fair price or of acceptable quality. If stamps are manufactured outside of the state, the director shall take any precautions which he deems necessary to safeguard the state against forgery and misdelivery of any stamps. The director may require of the manufacturer from whom stamps are purchased a bond in an amount to be determined by him commensurate with the monetary value of the stamps, containing such conditions as he may deem necessary in order to protect the state against loss.

4. It shall be the intent of this chapter that the impact of the tax levied hereunder be absorbed by the consumer or user and when the tax is paid by any other person, the payment shall be considered as an advance payment and shall thereafter be added to the price of the cigarettes and recovered from the ultimate consumer or user with the person first selling the cigarettes acting as an agent of the state for the payment and collection of the tax to the state, except that in furtherance of the intent of this chapter no refund of any tax collected and remitted by a retailer upon gross receipts from a sale of cigarettes subject to tax under this chapter shall be claimed under chapter 144, RSMo, for any amount illegally or erroneously overcharged or overcollected as a result of imposition of sales tax by the retailer upon amounts representing the tax imposed under this chapter.

5. In making sales of cigarettes in the state, a wholesaler shall keep a record of the amount of tax on his gross sales. The tax shall be evidenced by appropriate stamps attached to each package of cigarettes sold. Notwithstanding anything in this chapter to the contrary, no such stamp need be attached to a package of cigarettes transported in the state between distributors unless and until such package is sold to a retailer or consumer.

6. The tax on any cigarettes contained in packages of four, ten, twenty or similar quantities to be used solely for distribution as samples shall be computed on a per cigarette basis at the rate set forth in this section, and payment of the tax shall be remitted to the director at such time and in such manner as he may prescribe.

7. The revenue generated by the additional two mills tax imposed effective August 13, 1982, less any three percent reduction allowed under the provisions of section 149.021, shall be placed in a separate fund entitled "The Fair Share Fund". Such moneys in the fair share fund shall be distributed to the schools in this state on an average daily attendance basis, except as provided in section 163.031, RSMo.

8. The revenue generated by the additional two mills tax imposed effective October 1, 1993, less any three percent reduction allowed under the provisions of section 149.021, shall be deposited in the health initiatives fund created in section 191.831, RSMo. When the general assembly appropriates an amount equal to twenty-five percent of the net federal reimbursement allowance to the health initiatives fund, this subsection shall expire. The additional two mills tax levied under this section shall not apply to an amount of stamped cigarettes in the possession of licensed wholesalers on October 1, 1993, up to thirty-five percent of the total cigarette sales made by such licensed wholesaler during the six months immediately preceding October 1, 1993."; and

The Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

"For which cause we faint not, but through our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day." (2 Corinthians 4:16)

Creator God, we are marvelously made, yet time and stress take their toll on our bodies and as we end a week of work we need this weekend with You to renew our inner person. We pray, nourish and strengthen us daily by remembrance of Your divine love giving us joyful hope we can bring to all we do and to those we encounter. And make us mindful of the sacrifice of our families while we serve here and the need of the comfort of Your word shared together with those we love. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

Gracious Lord, You have shown Your love for us daily, through gentle moments to the most stressful days. You have ridden with us and comforted us in our "going out and coming in." Grant us this week Your Holy Spirit so that nothing in life will ever cause us to doubt Your steadfast love and may we express Your love to others in all we do. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Bill No. 830, Page 3, Section 211.073, Line 57, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"211.185. 1. In addition to the court's authority to issue an order for the child to make restitution or reparation for the damage or loss caused by his offense as provided in section 211.181, the court may enter a judgment of restitution against both the parent and the child pursuant to the provisions of this section if the court finds that the parent has failed to exercise reasonable parental discipline or authority to prevent the damage or loss and the child has:

(1) Stolen, damaged, destroyed, converted, unlawfully obtained, or substantially decreased the value of the property of another; or

(2) Inflicted personal injury on another, requiring the injured person to incur medical, dental, hospital, funeral, or burial expenses.

2. The court may order both the parent and the child to make restitution to:

(1) The victim;

(2) Any governmental entity; or

(3) A third-party payor, including an insurer, that has made payment to the victim to compensate the victim for a property loss or a pecuniary loss under subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section.

3. Restitution payments to the victim have priority over restitution payments to a third-party payor. If the victim has been compensated for the victim's loss by a third-party payor, the court may order restitution payments to the third-party payor in the amount that the third-party payor compensated the victim.

4. Payment of restitution to a victim under this section has priority over payment of restitution to any governmental entity.

5. Considering the age and circumstances of a child, the court may order the child to make restitution to the wronged person personally.

6. A restitution hearing to determine the liability of the parent and the child shall be held not later than thirty days after the disposition hearing and may be extended by the court for good cause. In the restitution hearing, a written statement or bill for medical, dental, hospital, funeral, or burial expenses shall be prima facie evidence that the amount indicated on the written statement or bill represents a fair and reasonable charge for the services or materials provided. The burden of proving that the amount indicated on the written statement or bill is not fair and reasonable shall be on the person challenging the fairness and reasonableness of the amount.

7. A judgment of restitution against a parent may not be entered unless the parent has been afforded a reasonable opportunity to be heard and to present appropriate evidence in his behalf. The parent shall be advised of his right to obtain counsel for representation at the hearing. A hearing under this section may be held as part of an adjudicatory or disposition hearing for the child.

8. The judgment may be enforced in the same manner as enforcing monetary judgments.

9. A judgment of restitution ordered pursuant to this section against a child and his parents shall not be a bar to a proceeding against the child and his parents pursuant to section 537.045, RSMo, or section 8.150, RSMo, for the balance of the damages not paid pursuant to this section. In no event, however, may the total restitution paid by the child and his parents pursuant to this section, section 8.150, RSMo, and section 537.045, RSMo, exceed [four] twenty thousand dollars.

10. The child may be ordered to work in a court-approved community service work site at a rate of compensation not to exceed minimum wage. The number of hours worked shall be reported to the juvenile officer and the compensation earned for these hours shall be used for the sole purpose of satisfying the judgment entered against the child in accordance with this section. Upon application by the juvenile officer made with the juvenile court's written approval, the clerk of the court of the circuit where the fund is deposited and where a judgment has been entered in accordance with this section shall pay the compensation earned by the child to the person in whose favor the judgment has been entered.

11. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section to the contrary, a judgment of restitution ordered pursuant to this section against a child may be executed upon after the child attains the age of eighteen years.

537.045. 1. The parent or guardian, excluding foster parents, of any unemancipated minor, under eighteen years of age, in their care and custody, against whom judgment has been rendered for purposely marking upon, defacing or in any way damaging any property, shall be liable for the payment of that judgment up to an amount not to exceed [two] twenty thousand dollars, provided that the parent or guardian has been joined as a party defendant in the original action. The judgment provided in this subsection to be paid shall be paid to the owner of the property damaged, but such payment shall not be a bar to any criminal action or any proceeding against the unemancipated minor for such damage for the balance of the judgment not paid by the parent or guardian.

2. The parent or guardian, excluding foster parents, of any unemancipated minor, under eighteen years of age, in their care and custody, against whom judgment has been rendered for purposely causing personal injury to any individual, shall be liable for the payment for that judgment up to an amount not to exceed [two] twenty thousand dollars, provided that the parent or guardian has been joined as a party defendant in the original action. The judgment provided in this subsection to be paid shall be paid to the person injured, but such payment shall not be a bar to any criminal action or any proceeding against the unemancipated minor for such damage for the balance of the judgment not paid by the parent or guardian.

3. Upon rendering a judgment in any proceeding under this section, the judge may order the parent or guardian, and the minor who damaged the property or caused the personal injury, to work for the owner of the property damaged or the person injured in lieu of payment, if the parent, minor and the owner of the property damaged or the person injured are agreeable."; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Journal of the Senate

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FIFTY-SEVENTH DAY--TUESDAY, APRIL 18, 2000

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Pro Tem Quick in the Chair.

The Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

Abraham Lincoln was once asked: "If God is on our side?" To which he replied: "It is more important to know that we are on God's side."

Gracious God, over and over again we have seen how You have chosen insignificant minorities to be Your spokespersons and again and again You have achieved great victories. Help us to keep the faith even though at times we seem to be a minority voice among our people. Help us to have the courage to do that which is right knowing we are on Your side. And we give You thanks for providing healing for Don Rackers and we pray Your continued healing presence brings him to complete health. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.
